Suit To Scrap Parochial In Early Review

LANING (AP) — An Ingham County Circuit Court judge and two colleagues have taken on the first review of what may grow into a protracted legal battle over the Parochial controversy.

Judge Sam Street Hughes, joined at his request by colleagues Jack W. Warren and Donald L. Reisig, said Friday he will try to reach a decision by next Friday on a suit that seeks to block the parochial measure recently passed by the Senate.

Sens. Roger Craig of Dearborn and Basil Brown of Highland Park, both attorneys, argued before the judges that T. Thomas Thatcher, clerk of the house of representatives, should be enjoined from accepting a $1 billion school aid bill containing $88 million for Parochial.

Craig, Brown and fellow Democrat Coleman Young of Detroit, contend the Senate erred in passing the bill on the strength of only a 22-15 simple majority.

They further contend the Parochial section amounts to allocating public funds for a private purpose and must be approved by a two-thirds vote. On a procedural question, 19 senators voted down 18 colleagues in deciding the extra margin wasn't needed.

Thatcher's attorney, Russell Searle, argued Friday that under the separation-of-powers doctrine of the U.S. and Michigan Constitutions, no court has authority to interfere in legislative action.

Furthermore, Searle contended, the suit was premature because it sought to preempt various legislative alternatives that might accomplish what the senators seek.

The disputed legislation itself specifies that the legislature seek a Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of the Parochial section. Authority for the request comes from Article I, Section 2 of the 1850 Constitution, Searle pointed out.

Education Board Sets State Meets

LANING (AP) — The State Board of Education will meet in Detroit Tuesday and Wednesday, the first of a series of meetings around the state.

The Detroit meeting will begin at 8 p.m. Tuesday, and convene at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Among agenda items are talks with the board-appointed State Advisory Council on Vocational Education; reports on educational progress; Department of Education capital outlay recommendations; and the board's plan for higher education.

Other meetings scheduled outside Lansing are in Flint, Feb. 10-11; Grand Rapids, April 14-15; Midland, June 9-10, and either Traverse City or South St. Marie, Aug. 11-12.

The English language is funny—a fat chance and a slim chance are the same thing.

HIGH WAVES from a storm far out in the Pacific a week ago pounded a rocky point at South Laguna, Calif., Thursday. The waves aren't as big as those that beat the northwest shore of Oahu, Hawaii, but forecasters predict they will increase in size over the weekend along the California coast. (AP Wirephoto)

Will House Sidetrack Education Bill Again?

LANING (AP) — Parochial aid, a $25-million plan blessed by Gov. William G. Milliken, but damned by public education advocates, finally has sidetracked filibusters and a court suit to reach the Michigan House—scene of its earlier, first defeat.

The Senate, by a 20-14 vote Friday, sent the controversial measure, that would allocate public funds to private and church-operated schools, on to the House after nearly a week-long delay. Currently in operation in only four states, parochial aid is contained in a $1,000-billion school aid bill for next year and is part of Milliken's 1968-69 education reform package.

Opponents of parochial aid were in court Friday, where a panel of three Ingham County Circuit Judges said they would try to reach a decision by next Friday on a suit seeking to bar T. Thomas Thatcher, House of Representatives clerk, from accepting the school aid and parochial bill from the Senate.

The House Taxation Committee, meanwhile, recommended favorable action on a three-bill package to raise an estimated $48 million by tying off several business and manufacturing exemptions from the four-per-cent state sales and use taxes. Those bills, sponsored by Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, passed the upper house earlier.

A bill to raise some $110 million by eliminating the property tax credit on state income tax payments, also has been sent to the House.

Eye Income Tax Hike
The lower chamber's tax committee also moved closer to recommending an increased state income tax plan proposed by House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit.

Aliming to raise an additional $300 million in the next 12 months, Ryan proposes a two-tenths of one per cent increase in the 2.6 per cent state personal income tax. He also would raise the 5.6 per cent corporate income tax to 6.5 per cent and the 7-per cent financial institutions tax to 8.2 per cent.

The seven-cent state cigarette tax would go to a dime a pack under Ryan's plan.

Injunction Filed
The injunction request against Thatcher was filed by Democratic Sens. Roger Craig of Dearborn, Basil Brown of Highland Park and Coleman Young of Detroit.

They contend the parochial section of the school aid bill, besides being unconstitutional, amounts to allocating public funds for a private purpose and must be adopted by a majority of two-thirds as stipulated in the 1963 State Constitution.

Simple Majority
The Senate, however, passed the bill on the strength of a simple majority, after overturning a ruling by Senate President

John Barrymore Faces Sentencing On Drug Count

INDIO, Calif. (AP) — Actor John Barrymore Jr. is to be sentenced Dec. 29 after pleading no contest to a charge of possessing dangerous drugs.

Superior Court Judge Carl L. Davis, who set the penalty hearing, said Friday he will rule at that time on a defense motion to reduce the charge from a felony to a misdemeanor.

Highway patrolmen arrested Barrymore, 37, last summer after a car accident near the desert community of Yucca Valley. Officers said they found some pills and marijuana in Barrymore's car. He is free on $1,250 bail.

Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, that the two-thirds vote would be required.

That procedural decision came on a 19-18 vote—a margin of one but less than a majority of the elected chamber.

Defense Rests Case In Windy City Riot Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — After 10 weeks of often interrupted testimony, the prosecution rested its case Friday against seven men charged with conspiring to incite rioting during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Thomas A. Foran, the U.S. district attorney, presented 54 witnesses. More than 30 were policemen involved in the undercover surveillance of the defendants during the convention in August 1968.

The government also introduced some 50 exhibits, including several film strips and tape recordings of the crowd scenes and violent confrontations between police and demonstrators.

Two major witnesses—William Frappolly and Irwin Bock, both police intelligence agents—took up nearly two weeks of the prosecution case. Most of their time on the witness stand was spent in cross-examination.

The defense lawyers, William M. Kunstler of New York City and Leonard J. Weinglass of Newark, N.J., engaged prosecution witnesses in detailed questioning which usually was several hours longer than the direct examination.

Since the trial began Sept. 24 in U.S. District Court, the defense has made 12 motions for a mistrial and one motion they styled "stop the trial." Judge Julius J. Hoffman has denied all of them.

Nixon Veto Could Derail SS Increase

Ask $100 Minimum, 15 Per Cent Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott renewed today GOP threats of a presidential veto of the tax reform bill after the Senate's surprise decision to raise minimum Social Security payments to $100.

But Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, noting the tax measure still has to go through a Senate-House conference committee, said he doesn't take such threats seriously.

"I think they're premature," he contended.

Senate Meets

The Senate met at 9 a.m. in an unusual Saturday session as it sought to complete the bill after attaching costly provisions for additional Social Security benefits and tax credits for parents of college students.

Scott told reporters the bill, "if it gets any worse, may prove in the President's eyes to be disenableing," explaining he found the word in the dictionary to mean "disqualifying."

Veto Possible
"Unless the bill looks better when it comes out of conference," the GOP leader said, he would have to echo Asst. Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin's statement Friday that "I just wouldn't bet against a veto."

Mansfield said he hopes the amendment he and Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., sponsored to raise minimum Social Security payments to $100 survives conference but added "I don't know" what its chances are.

Hike Approval Seen

Scott said, regardless of what happens to the tax reform bill, he thinks a 15 per cent social security benefit hike approved Friday will become law, either this year or early next.

The House plans to take up a separate bill providing such an increase next week.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager of the bill, said he did not expect passage before next Tuesday.

The $100 floor for Social Security payments was written into the tax reform bill Friday by the 48-41 adoption of an amendment sponsored by Mansfield and one of his assistant Democratic leaders, Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia.

To finance the increased payments, the taxable wage base would be raised from the current $7,800 to $12,000 in 1973. The increased benefits, which would be effective Jan. 1 and go to some 25 million beneficiaries starting in April, would cost an estimated $6.2 billion.

The increase would give a couple a new minimum of $150 a month.

Democrats handling the tax bill originally had planned to add a rider calling for a straight 15 per cent Social Security boost. This would have raised the minimum payment, for example, from $55 to $64.

Long Sponsors Bill

The 15 per cent across-the-board rider was sponsored by Long, who said he was sure it was all the House would accept.

The House Ways and Means Committee approved such a 15 per cent hike earlier this week. When Long offered his amendment, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., tried to substitute for it President Nixon's proposed 10 per cent Social Security increase.

This lost 55-34 on almost a straight party line vote.

Then Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., contending the $64 minimum payment of the Long amendment was too small, tried to raise it to $70. He was beaten 46-44.

Before this vote, Mansfield and Byrd announced they would come in later with their much bigger minimum figure.

Their proposal won the votes of 40 Democrats and eight Republicans; 28 Republicans and 13 Democrats voted against it.

Indictment Asked Against 'Hippie'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An indictment charging murder and conspiracy will be sought against the wild-haired, hypnotic leader of a wandering band of occult-oriented hippie types, says a prosecutor in the slayings of actress Sharon Tate and six others.

The grand jury action against Charles M. Manson—who, followers say, called himself "God," "Jesus" and "Satan"—will be asked on the basis of vicarious liability, said Deputy Dist. Atty. Vincent Bugliosi.

In vicarious liability, he said, a person who joins in a conspiracy, is criminally responsible for any of his coconspirators' crimes that further the object of the conspiracy.

Manson, 35, has not been charged in the murders. Susan Atkins, one of his followers, first hatched his plan to the killings but said its chief aim was not there when the victims died, authorities reported.

The gaunt, dark-eyed Manson remains jailed in the mountain community of Independence on charges of possessing stolen cars.

The closed grand jury hearing into the killings of Miss Tate, blonde wife of film director Roman Polanski, and six others was continued until Monday with 10 more witnesses expected to testify. Six told their stories Friday.

Miss Atkins, 21, principal witness at Friday's hearing, described "all the details" of the stabbings and shootings, her attorney said, and told the grand jury she was hypnotized by Manson. She has said she was at the murder scenes and that Manson had ordered the victims slain.

"If the grand jury sees the evidence as we do, we'll have an indictment of murder against Manson," said Aaron Stovitz, another deputy district attorney prosecuting the case.

Stovitz said murder counts would be sought against at least five other persons, including Miss Atkins.

Prosecutors said the case probably would not go to trial for at least three months because of its complexity.

Miss Atkins, prim in a pink velvet dress bought for her by her attorney, said softly she would answer "anything they ask me."

Her attorney, Richard Cebalero, also a grand jury witness, said she repeated everything she had told him—describing how a band of blacked Manson-followers armed with guns and knives killed Miss Tate and four others Aug. 9, then killed a rich married couple and his wife the next night to prove they hadn't lost their nerve.

Five other witnesses entered the courtroom amid camera flashes and shouted questions. All refused to comment to newsmen.

Greece 'Chilled' By NATO Move

BRUSSELS (AP) — Key allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization seem to have quietly put the big freeze on Greece, which has been accused of undermining practices and of torturing its opponents.

The unannounced development coincided with moves to suspend the Athens government from NATO. Under NATO's 20-year-old treaty, its members are obliged to defend democracy and its institutions.

Among signs of the freeze: —Seating on the Nuclear Planning Group has been arranged so that Greece is not taking a place at this time.

Greece is expected to take over Turkey's seat next year, but no announcement has been made.

—In September Greece gave up its right to the presidency of the NATO Council, which normally goes the rounds among the 15 members in alphabetical order. There was no official explanation. Correspondents who inquired were told that the Greek Foreign Minister was ill. The most important job of the president is to give a dinner for the ministers at the December year-end review meeting that ended Friday.

Because the Greek government is unpopular, it would have been embarrassing for some, including Secretary of State William P. Rogers, to accept Greek hospitality.

For their part, the Greeks themselves seem less than pleased. Unlike their allies, they sent no cabinet ministers to the current sessions. They were represented by George Tsistos, undersecretary for foreign affairs.

Drug Talk Set

ALBION (AP) — Dr. Walter H. Clark, visiting professor of psychology of religion, will lead a three-day discussion of the use and abuse of drugs next week at Albion College.

Canonization Of Martyrs Contested By Great Britain

LONDON (AP) — A question of sainthood brought out this week one of the differences remaining between the Church of England and the Roman Catholic Church in this country.

John Cardinal Heenan has said he thinks the time is "most opportune" for the canonization of 40 martyrs who died under the direction of English monarchs. Archbishop Michael Ramsey, the Church of England primate, says such a move could harm the ecumenical cause in this country, and speaks of a "siege mentality" in Roman Catholic ranks.

Priests In Group
The 40 martyrs, more than half of them priests, met their fate in the reigns of Henry VIII, Elizabeth I and James I soon after the Church of England broke with Rome.

Some were hanged, drawn and quartered—the traitor's fate—because they would not recognize the monarch as "supreme head on earth" of the Church of England. Others, including several women, died because they hid fugitive priests in their homes.

The cause of the martyrs was first raised in 1874 by Henry Cardinal Manning. In 1900, Pope Leo XIII beatified 30 of the 40, thus permitting their veneration.

Cardinal Backs Move
While in Rome for the recent synod meeting, Cardinal Heenan told the Pope: "It would hasten the Catholics of England to see these champions of the Pope's authority raised to the altar."

Archbishop Ramsey has not commented on this but has referred inquiries to a memorandum he drew up three years ago. His opinion was sought then by the Vice-Pope for the Cause of the Forty Martyrs, which operates from England's Jesuit headquarters in Mayfair, London.

"There is not only the prejudice of ultra-Protestant people," he points out. "But there is also the 'siege mentality' which is apt to poison Roman Catholics in England."

"Siege mentality," explained "By 'siege mentality' I mean a kind of militant self-consciousness which is far different from the spirit of the meeting between His Holiness the Pope and myself in March 1968.

"The 'siege mentality' is, I believe, bound up psychologically with a kind of martyrdom complex deeply, and of course, intelligibly, rooted in history. Ought we not on both sides to be getting away from this?"

Dr. Ramsey suggested that "while some ecumenical language is used, the final outcome is that the Martyrs are to be invoked so that with the aid of their prayers non-Roman Catholic Christians in England may be brought within the Roman obedience."

Not Aggressive Move
Cardinal Heenan had no comment but the Rev. Clement Tigar, a Jesuit who runs the campaign for canonization of the Martyrs, insisted: "This is not an aggressive move. We're not condemning anyone. We're holding up as examples men who died for their conscience, who put God before the state. We are not attacking other religions, and certainly not the Church of England."

Michigan's Railroads:

Dunbar Signals 'All Aboard!' To Exciting Future

Remember when the community center was the railroad station?

That's a long time ago, of course, but even after many adjustments the nation are still doing more than any other transportation service in meeting the needs of the space age.

The story is told by Dr. Willis Dunbar in his newest book "All Aboard! A History of Railroad in Michigan." His enthusiasm for the subject establishes him as one of the more informed railroad buffs.

From his boyhood days, when he sold popcorn at the railroad station in his hometown of Hartford, Mich. to his later years as a historian when he became aware of the enormous part the railroads played in the development of the nation, Willis Dunbar has had a romantic affair going with the railroads.

Railroads Were There "I continued to ride the rails whenever there was a decent excuse," he confides. And his deep and affectionate interest "conspired to move me to dig out some of the facts about railroads in Michigan and write down my findings."

Dunbar's book is described as "the first comprehensive history of railroads and railroading in Michigan," which it is. More than this, he has selected anecdote and incident to recall—with the incisiveness of a cinder in the eye—the feeling and color of the period.

The story of the railroads in Michigan began in 1837 with the run of the locomotive "Adrian" on the Erie and Kalamazoo. Dunbar follows the development of the industry from that first struggling line to the network that spread throughout the state, heralding the "golden age" of railroads.

Was there ore, logs, grain, coal or people to be transported? The railroad was there. The lines extended even across the Great Lakes to link railroads on opposite shores. Watching the thundering steam locomotives, boys dreamed of a future in railroading.

Look To Future Crowds no longer gather at the railway station, but in planning for the nation's total transportation needs the railroads can not be ignored, says Dr. Dunbar. "Out of this planning will come new roles for rail transport that may revolutionize railroads as we have known them. And he concludes: "Indeed, the future may be more exciting than the past."

The author of numerous articles in educational and historical journals, Dr. Dunbar's books on various phases of Michigan history include "Michigan, a History of the Wolverine State" and "How It Was in Hartford." He is formerly head of the History Department at Western Michigan University and is a member and past president of the Michigan Historical Commission.

"All Aboard! A History of Railroads in Michigan," cloth bound, 308 pages, many illustrations, published by Wm. B. Eerdmans Publishing Co., Grand Rapids, Mich. Price $7.95.

Series Re-Tested

NEW YORK (AP)—Thousands of preschool children at day care centers, nurseries and settlement houses have been helping to put together their own educational television series called "Sesame Street."

Each segment of the new daily, hour-long program being produced by the Children's Television Workshop has been pre-tested on three-, four- and five-year-olds to make certain that it interested them and got across its educational message.

"They're a tough audience," said one Sesame Street producer. "We had to throw out what we thought was some of our best material."

Two Girls Caught Following Rampage

MARQUETTE — Two girls, ages 10 and 11, have been turned over to the juvenile division of Marquette county probate court on charges of illegal entry and malicious destruction of property in two homes here.

City police said the girls dumped pills and other medicine on floors, set fires on a rug and poured iodine into a fish bowl in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Mattson. A rug also was burned in the home of Mrs. Peter Mollison. In addition to dressers being ransacked, cashes thrown around, clothing, jewelry and a record player thrown from a second floor balcony and obscenities written on the walls with lipstick.

Police captured the pair after they revisited the Mattson home and set fires in the bedroom.

The girls were taken to the Marquette Reformatory for Girls after 4 p. m. Monday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 3 p. m. Tuesday at the funeral home. The Rev. William Brauer will officiate and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Troops Will Be Reindoctrinated Due To 'Scandal'

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. headquarters ordered field commanders to reindoctrinate their troops in the wake of the alleged My Lai massacre, spokesmen disclosed today.

The commanders were told to "thoroughly explain, reiterate and reemphasize" the doctrine that civilian noncombatants must be treated according to international agreements on warfare, officials said.

The instructions, ordered to be passed from "the highest level down to individual soldiers" a few days ago, also stressed that greater efforts must be made to identify civilians in areas of contact, sources said.

Spokesmen said they did not know whether the order came from the Pentagon.

All U.S. military personnel arriving in Vietnam go through a week of indoctrination on the "proper care and treatment" of civilians, as well as such things as Vietnamese customs, before being assigned to field units.

These instructions are now being "reemphasized," spokesmen said, but no new ones have been written.

Fishing Licenses

MICHIGAN'S Department of Natural Resources has announced that fishing licenses for 1970 will be available for sale starting Dec. 15. Licenses for 1970 will be available for sale starting Dec. 15. Licenses for 1970 will be available for sale starting Dec. 15.

The new licenses and stamps will be available for sale for the month of this year as well as throughout 1970. Dec. 31 is the expiration date of 1969 fishing licenses.

Persons at all 1970 fishing license stations, including those that sell bait and fishing tackle, are urged to purchase their 1970 licenses as soon as possible.

Persons at all 1970 fishing license stations, including those that sell bait and fishing tackle, are urged to purchase their 1970 licenses as soon as possible.

No School For Jr. High Pupils

Ray Hivale, principal of the Escanaba Junior High School, announced today that classes will not be held Monday and Tuesday so that parent-teacher conferences may be conducted.

He requests that parents with their last name beginning with the letters A through M attend Monday's conference, while those with their last name starting with the letters N through Z come in Tuesday.

All parents are urged to attend. The conferences will be held each day from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Reptile Skull Seen Proving Big Land Mass

WASHINGTON (AP) — Part of a 200-million-year-old reptile skull found near the South Pole establishes the theory that most of the Southern Hemisphere was once a single land mass, a top scientist says.

Dr. Laurence M. Gould, chief scientist of the 1953 Byrd expedition to the South Pole, reported his find to the National Science Foundation. He said Friday it is "one of the truly great fossil finds of all time."

The skull was identified as from the Lystrosaurus, a reptile two to four feet long from the Lower Triassic age of 200 million years ago.

Gould said the reptile "is the key index fossil of Lower Triassic in the major southern land masses and establishes beyond further question the former existence of the great southern continent of Gondwanaland."

The theory is that Gondwanaland once spanned the South Atlantic oceans and included most of Africa, South America and India in a single land mass.

2,000 'Pig Bowl' Tickets Bought

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Sponsors of the "Pig Bowl" between Ann Arbor police and Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies say they have sold 2,000 tickets.

The price for a ticket to the tackle game is $1.50 or a toy of equivalent value. Proceeds will go to needy children.

The game, to be played on the campus of Eastern Michigan University in nearby Ypsilanti, was originally scheduled Friday night, but was postponed to Sunday because of conflicts with high school and college sports events.

Eastern Michigan is providing equipment for the deputies and the University of Michigan is outfitting the police.

Capt. Medina To Sue Magazine

BOSTON (AP) — Capt. Ernest L. Medina, charging he was held up to ridicule and contempt, filed suit against Time, Inc., Friday in federal court, asking $110 million in damages.

The suit was filed from the office of F. Lee Bailey, Boston lawyer who represents the Springer, N.M., native.

Medina's suit said the case is based on the current issue of Time magazine, which carried statements of a soldier connecting Medina with alleged slayings of civilians at My Lai, South Vietnam in March 1968.

Deceased Colonel Told It As It Was

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The commander of a search-and-destroy mission that allegedly became a massacre of innocent civilians at My Lai in Vietnam on March 16, 1968, was bothered by the "strange nature" of the Vietnam war, his widow told the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In a copyright story in Saturday's edition, Dorothy Barker told of statements made by her husband while on a rest-and-recreation leave in Honolulu, Hawaii, less than a month after the My Lai incident.

Her husband, Lt. Col. Frank A. Barker, 40, was killed in a helicopter accident not far from My Lai on June 13, 1968.

Interviewed at her home in Hollywood, Fla., by Joseph Esterhas, she recalled her husband saying:

"What are we supposed to do?"

ing studied by Michigan Technological University specialists. The well-preserved material is in a peat layer about six feet thick, covered by 30 to 30 feet of sand. All twigs have been pressed into an elliptical shape by the weight of the sand, but the logs tend to be round.

The peat deposits extend for about a half mile along the Otter River banks on a farm owned by Evert Larson. He discovered the material in an exposed section along the river and in a well which he dug near the river. The study is being conducted by Dr. Robert T. Brown, professor of botany, and Dr. Jorma Kalliooski, head of the geology department.

Carbon Dating Used
The age of the tree remains was established by radio-carbon dating by an East Coast isotope laboratory. This dating process is based on the assumption that trees that grew 8,000 years ago had the same original amount of radio-carbon as present-day trees.

"The amount of radioactive carbon present in the sample is measured, and because the rate of decomposition of radio-carbon is known, the elapsed time for the decomposition easily can be calculated," Dr. Brown explained. "This gives the age of the trees and of the contained sediments."

Dr. Kalliooski said these deposits should be helpful in determining the post-glacial history of this region. It has been well established that the last southward glacial advance here took place approximately 11,000 years ago on the basis of radio-carbon dates of tree remains from several places in northern Wisconsin and from White Pine. All of these dates are from forests pushed over and buried by the advancing ice.

Glaciation

"The Otter River deposits appear to have formed at the late stages of the last glaciation," Dr. Kalliooski said. "The trees apparently sank in water, perhaps in a marsh, and then were buried by sand before decomposition could take place." Much more recently, the Otter River has gradually cut down through the sand, and has now exposed the buried trees in the peat layer.

DECLARATION

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—The National Association of Evangelicals is circulating a "Christian Declaration," seeking signatures throughout the country. It says that Christian principles "played a major role in the founding of this nation," but secular society now widely neglects these values. The statements call for an American recommitment to God.

Other items on the agenda include adoption of a science textbook for the school, adult education, policy consideration, and report from the superintendent on parent-teacher conference participation.

OCTOPUSES' FEARS
LAUNCESTON, Tasmania — Giant octopuses are seen crayfish from the point around Flinders Island.

The result, says Jack Hammond who heads the local fishing association, is that the catch this season is less than what was anticipated.

Hammond said fishermen had killed many octopuses, some with tentacles 30 ft. long. He said sharks normally kept down the number of octopuses, but fishing had greatly reduced the number of sharks.

The Big One

They won't be seen around Escanaba for many years and maybe never, but the new "jumbo jets" which will go into commercial passenger service next year are going to have a major impact on the world's aviation.

Pan American Airlines, which will introduce the first scheduled Boeing 747 flights between New York and London by early February, took a group of newsmen and VIP's across the country last week in the first public demonstration of the huge plane. The plane, which has wings as big as basketball courts and can carry up to 490 passengers, took off from Seattle and flew the 2,422 miles to New York in four hours, five minutes at speeds up to 722 miles per hour at an altitude six miles above the earth.

That sure beats the months it used to take from east to west via covered wagon, but in the "jet age" the speed of the flight wasn't the most impressive statistic.

The airplane itself is so big that it's almost like a flying hotel.

Edwin G. Pipp, aerospace writer for the Detroit News, was on the flight and he reported that the jumbo jet, with its 281-foot long fuselage and 195-foot long wing span, "it more like an ocean-going luxury liner than an airplane."

"Passengers are encouraged to walk around," Pipp said. "The cabin is so big that even with seats nine abreast there are two aisles wider than any of today's jets. It takes five minutes to complete a circuit of the cabin — for the traveler who wants to exercise three circuits equal a quarter of a mile."

The plane has a 18-step spiral staircase from the main cabin to a lounge with sofas, easy chairs and a bar and the cabin is so large "that food trays were not used. Buffets were set up outside the galleys (six of them) with passengers easily moving through to make their own selections."

If the "jumbo jet" will make traveling a greater pleasure for passengers, however, it will create even greater headaches on the ground where none of the major air terminals are equipped to handle the number of passengers and luggage the big planes will carry. Special equipment will be needed to allow passengers to board the planes and also to permit easy servicing.

Pan American will be the first airliner with the big plane on scheduled routes, but other airlines — including American, Northwest Orient and Delta — are scheduled to begin service in 1970 and 1971.

The Upper Peninsula, of course, is served only by North Central and Trans-Michigan Airlines and just recently received its first scheduled jet service with 100-passenger DC-9 flights. North Central officials say they have no present plan to move into the "jumbo jet set" but do not rule it completely out of the future.

One official said that North Central 20 years ago didn't expect to be flying the present DC-9 aircraft, either. If the passenger traffic continues to grow, he said, who's to say that "jumbo jets" won't come to North Central, too.

By that time, the "jumbo jets" may be little sisters on the world-wide routes.

Peninsula Potpourri

Appointment of Joseph Ringsmuth Jr., 31, cashier of the First National Bank of Wakefield, to fill a vacancy on the Gogebic County Welfare Board was announced by welfare director Walter Bennett. He succeeds James J. Cudahy, who resigned.

Former State Senator Charles McManiman is wondering if beavers are a desirable animal to have about. He certainly didn't issue an invitation to them to reside on his property, but that didn't stop some of the creatures from chewing down 50 poplar trees. "They certainly get things done," the ex-lawmaker observed as he looked over his property along the Portage Waterway.

Mrs. Donald K. McEachern of St. Ignace is retiring as acting chairman of the Mackinac County chapter of the American Red Cross after a lifetime of service for that organization. She began active service in 1924 when she served as a volunteer worker in Hendricks Township. She was selected county chairman in 1964 and served in that position several times since then. Four years ago she was presented with a 40-year pin in recognition of 40 years of service to the Red Cross.

A Grand Rapids man is hospitalized in Ironwood and police are following a trail which lead to his apparent beating. Frank King, staying at a Land O'Lakes (Wis.) resort, was found severely beaten in front of an Ironwood motel. He told officers he had an auto accident, he does not remember exactly where. He recalled that he was picked up by two young men who beat him up, took his shoes and then drove him around before dropping him off in Ironwood. He said he remembers last being in the Watermeet area.

The U. S. Transportation Department has concurred with the opinion of Menominee County Prosecuting Attorney Charles M. Minerman regarding the question of time in Menominee. Minerman forwarded a petition to the department two weeks ago which asked that the city and public schools abide by the Federal Uniform Time Act. The petition was signed by 180 persons. The city and schools, plus virtually all businesses in the city, are operating on Central Standard Time. Menominee, like the rest of Michigan, is in the Eastern time zone. "We agree with your interpretation of the law applicable to the situation," James E. Minor, assistant general counsel for the department, said in a letter received by Minerman. "People may, of course, adjust their hours in any way they wish, so long as they are announced in terms of the official time applicable to the zone. We do not apply the time act to the strictly private or social activities of persons." The County of Menominee outside of the city is on Eastern time and county and state government offices in the city operate on Eastern time.

Federal, State Lands Cut U.P. Tax Power

By JEAN WORTH
Of Fama Newspapers

Are communities in the Upper Peninsula losing the ability to support local government services with their own property taxes?

Because federal and state governments have taken so much U.P. land for their own purposes — more than 40 per cent of it — there has been a big reduction in taxable properties.

Federal and state lands are not taxable; money is paid to local governments in lieu of taxes, but not as much as property tax payments on privately owned lands.

When Richard Whitmer, director of the Michigan Department of Commerce, toured the Upper Peninsula he was told there must be a solution of the Upper Peninsula's tax problem. It was suggested that either tax exemption of government lands must end, or payments in lieu of taxes must increase.

More Research Whitmer suggested in his recommendation to Gov. William Milliken that there is need for more research on the question.

Local government in the Upper Peninsula has looked at its mounting tax problems and then sought the means to increase income.

Pay More Money When local government observes that private properties pay more taxes than government properties of the same character (commercial forest lands, for instance) it is apt to suggest that government pay more, or that it return its lands to private ownership. Whitmer heard these suggestions repeatedly.

Lands Inventoried Whitmer reported this week that there are about 10 million acres in the U.P. (excluding the 539,000 acres of Isle Royale) with nearly 90 per cent in forest. Of the commercial forest land, 4.5 million acres are off the ad valorem tax roll, so close to half of it is not subject to the property tax upon which schools and local governments depend heavily.

The federal forests in the U.P. include 1.8 million acres, the state forests 1.7 million acres, county and municipal forests 73,000 acres and 774,000 acres are in the Commercial Forest Reserve.

There are also other governmental lands which are not forests, like the 32,000 acres of state parks, and private lands given special tax treatment under the metallic mining laws.

Private commercial forest lands in the U.P., the Michigan Department of Natural Resources estimates, pay an average of 50 cents an acre in property taxes.

Payments Detailed Federal lands pay an average of 9 cents, so the "loss" each year on federal lands is $750,000. (at 41 cents per acre.) State lands pay 20 cents an acre, so the local tax "loss" on them (as compared with private ownership) is $420,000 yearly.

The "loss" on Forest Reserve lands paying an average of 20 cents an acre is calculated at $770,000, but this does not include the payoff of the severance tax, which justifies this tax system.

The total loss from all categories means $1.93 million and is estimated probably to exceed $2 million, a significant item in the the Upper Peninsula's economy, but Whitmer pointed out that the availability of public lands brings other benefits to the U.P. and that is need of government services is probably less costly than that of land in private ownership.

If the Upper Peninsula's view of its tax needs and its land-holding however, includes a look backward it will reveal how the present situation developed. Because the state and counties did not, before the Commercial Forest Reserve Act, grant a delay in full taxation of growing timber until it was harvested, private commercial forest owners were compelled to cut their timber and abandon their denuded forest lands. They could not pay taxes and grow another crop at a profit.

Forest Created State and federal forests were created in the resulting vacuum. They rehabilitated huge areas of the Upper Peninsula's forest lands. They are productive again.

And to their value as timberlands has been added in recent years a new value as recreational areas.

Where Michigan will find a balance between the value of forest land for production of wood products and its value as a recreational area still is uncertain. There may never be a clear definition of the two relative values to permit a valid accounting.

A "working" commercial forest with harvest of mature timber, for instance, is considered by biologists better than a park-type forest without logging as a place for wildlife, so it scores higher as a recreational area, if the recreationist happens to be a hunter.

Over Simplification?

State Department of Commerce officials concerned with the Upper Peninsula's problem of keeping a sufficient local property tax base seem to think at this early stage of their deliberations that to suggest that the state and federal governments put their U.P. lands back in private ownership or increase the payments on them in lieu of taxes oversimplifies the problem and may not solve it.

The basic concern is to put Upper Peninsula natural resources to work for maximum benefit to the people. B. M. Conboy, chief of the Office of Economic Expansion, tells Upper Peninsula leaders that they may not yet appreciate the huge size of the forest resource that spreads across the Upper Peninsula.

It is, he suggests, the thing that gives special character and attraction to the Upper Peninsula for visitors and which serves as a backdrop for the concentrated lures of its recreation centers.

FRINGE CUTBACK FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The generous collection of paid holidays that has made state employees the envy of many private workers is at an end. Gov. Louie B. Nunn reduced the number of such days from 16 1/2 to 9 1/2 per year.

Letters To The Press

INTERMEDIATION

When the teachers organize their local chapter of the Michigan Education Association, one of the first committees they select is the teachers' negotiating team. The prime function of this team is to negotiate teachers' salaries.

The team in the Big Bay de Noc District is composed of George Scorus, Joel Greneau, John Tripp, and Carl Freiberg. These men have worked diligently to inform themselves concerning local school finances, to prepare their case for an increased competitive teacher salary, and to present their facts to the Board and the citizens of our communities. These men become the spokesmen for the teachers. These men have worked in compliance with the laws and in close association with our state and regional officials in the Michigan Education Association.

The first member of our team to suffer intimidation (threats) for his activities on the team was George Scorus. Mr. Scorus was threatened with the loss of his principalship if he did not resign from the negotiating team. He refused to do so, believing that his teacher rights, as well as his constitutional rights, were being threatened.

The next member of the team to suffer intimidation is Carl Freiberg, the president of our local M.E.A. chapter and the chairman of our negotiating team. Because of his activities on the team, a petition is being circulated in the communities to have him fired. Why him? Why not all the teachers? Because of his position, he must sign all the articles that go into the Press. This does not mean that they are his own personal feelings. He is speaking out in behalf of the teachers, and he has their support and cooperation.

This petition is not helping the school situation; it is making it worse. For one thing, the communities are forced to take sides instead of working together to solve their problems. For another, Mr. Freiberg has tenure. This means that he has two years of service in this school system, and due process of law must be followed for his dismissal.

There have been other cases where communities and boards tried to dismiss a teacher for professional association activity, and they have failed. This district will find this a most difficult thing to do for more than one reason, and what will it accomplish? It will only aggravate an already very delicate situation.

Mr. Freiberg is a leader and the spokesman for the Big Bay de Noc Teachers' Association. He sincerely believes that this District is deserving of the very best in every phase of education.

Mrs. Robert Tetrow Member of the Big Bay de Noc Teachers' Association Garden, Michigan

Opening lead—king of clubs.
The secret of good dummy play is the ability to read how the defenders' cards are divided. Once declarer knows the exact composition of the unseen hands, he seldom has trouble finding the method of play that will produce the best result.

There are two chief sources for diagnosing the defenders' hands. One is their bidding (if any); the other is their play, starting with the opening lead. Highly illuminating conclusions can be drawn from either or both of these sources.

Take this hand where East-West each make one bid. These bids tell declarer a great deal about the unseen cards, and this knowledge is quickly supplemented by West's first two plays.

West leads the king of clubs, followed by the ace of diamonds. Right at this point South can tell almost exactly the cards that East-West each have.

West's five club bid is obviously based on great club length and the diamond ace, and East's double, such as it is, must be based on the K-J of hearts and K-J of diamonds. East might conceivably lack one or both red jacks, but he is bound to have both missing kings.

South consequently knows at trick two that if these suppositions are correct he will make the contract. After ruffing the diamond ace he trumps a club, ruffs another diamond, then trumps his last club with the ace.

He next draws trumps and plays a heart to dummy's nine, losing to the ten. East must then return a heart or a diamond, either of which gives South the hand.

West can forestall the end-play by leading a heart at trick two. He too can deduce, from seeing dummy, that East must have both red kings for his double. As a matter of fact, East, West and South should each know the composition of the unseen hands even though they are not actually exposed on the table.

Party On

Dear Ann Landers: My problem, to put it bluntly, is that I cannot get along with people. Before you tell this letter aside let me say I am not a confused teenager. I up to and hold a very responsible position. I have no problems in my family life — only in my associations with others.

Something about me creates a negative response. When I meet people for the first time they lose interest quickly. I've tried to make friends of my fellow-employees. I've failed. I eat lunch in the office cafeteria every day. Everyone seems to be with someone. I am always alone. Two years ago I joined a bowling league, hoping it would help. After a few weeks I quit as I didn't fit in, so I quit.

I tried a chess club. The same thing happened. I realize I have a tremendous inferiority complex, but I've been rebuffed so many times I'm afraid to try any more. I'm uneasy with groups and reluctant to speak. After a while, I have an overwhelming desire to go off alone. At the same time I want desperately to stay. Does this sound insane? Is that my problem? Am I crazy? Is there any hope for me? If not, thank you for listening. — The Loner

Dear Friend: David Reisman's book, "The Lonely Crowd" is full of people like you. You are NOT alone. Your name is legion.

Your problem is a lack of inner security. You think so poorly of yourself that you can't imagine anyone wanting to be your friend. You build walls instead of bridges — and these walls are constructed to keep people at a distance so they cannot see your loneliness. The conflict of wanting closeness and fearing it can make a person sick.

I urge you to get counseling. You need to get to know yourself. When you discover that you are worthy of friendship you will then be able to extend your hand to others — and they will reach out and accept what you have to offer.

Dear Ann Landers: My turtle died. We didn't know until it was too late that he was only a baby and should have been kept warm.

Three days ago Ringo seemed to be hibernating. Mom called the pet shop and asked why Ringo was so soft-shell all of a sudden. The lady said, "He is probably cold. Put a heating pad on him. After all, he is only a baby." By then it was too late. Ringo was already too sick. Probably pneumonia. He died the next day.

I think it is a shame to sell a pet and not give the owners instructions on how to take care of him. The women in the pet shop should have told us when we bought Ringo that he was only a baby.

I know you won't print this letter because it would sound

IMMIGRANT BALANCE BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Immigration Minister Cornelius P. Mulder has promised that government-sponsored immigration will not reduce the number of immigrants in this country. He told a congress of the American Federation of Labor that the government will ensure the balance in numbers between English and African-speaking citizens and between Protestants and Catholics is not disturbed.

Will Met Curtain Ever Rise Again?

NEW YORK (AP) — Stacks of unused tickets for the 1969-70 Metropolitan Opera season gather dust in a dark corner of cosmetics maker Chiffon Brown, one of a legion of opera buffs that has been wondering whether the curtain ever will rise again.

Now, with a contract settlement possible as early as Monday, the Met hopes it may be able to present an abbreviated season beginning around Christmas. The opera company's $45 million house failed to open in mid-September.

The delay was caused by the management's decision not to begin rehearsals until agreement was reached on all labor contracts. The unions, which had not called a strike, turned this decision a "lockout" and stiffened their demands.

The orchestra voted Wednesday night to accept the first three years of a four-year management proposal and the artists' union negotiators followed suit Thursday. The stagehands negotiate today. Chorists and dancers will try to settle on Monday.

The contract now proposed by management would, over three years, raise weekly pay for musicians from $260 to $325; soloists without individual contracts from $325 to $375; chorists $194 to $250; and dancers from $140 to $215.

Management estimates that the increases offered would double last year's operating deficit of $3.5 million. Much of the deficit is picked up by the opera's approximately 800 private and corporate patrons.

Many patrons, including some who give many times the minimum $1,000, prefer to remain anonymous. More than 118 companies and foundations patronize the opera starting at $500 for foundations, $2,500 for companies.

Even with a contract settlement, the comments of one patron suggested that not all the Met's problems would be over.

George Delacorte, arts patron and Dell Publishing Co. chairman, said, "I think this will make a lot of people hesitant about putting more money into it. There comes a time when you say, 'Enough!'"

The patrons had reason for cheer when General Manager Rudolf Bing began this week trying to reassemble Met stars and talked of a possible Dec. 29 opening with Leontyne Price in "Aida."

"It's a sad thing for one of the most important cities in the world—and certainly the center of important activities in the world—not to have an opera house," said Reven, president of Revlon, Inc.

Briefly Told

'Stolen' Pen Has Its Drawbacks

SOUTH ROCKWOOD (AP) — Sheila Kennedy, 26, of South Rockwood, likely will be more careful about picking up "fountain pens" of relatives in the future.

She picked up what she thought was a fountain pen Thursday. It turned out to be a miniature tear-gas gun and she triggered it within a foot of her face.

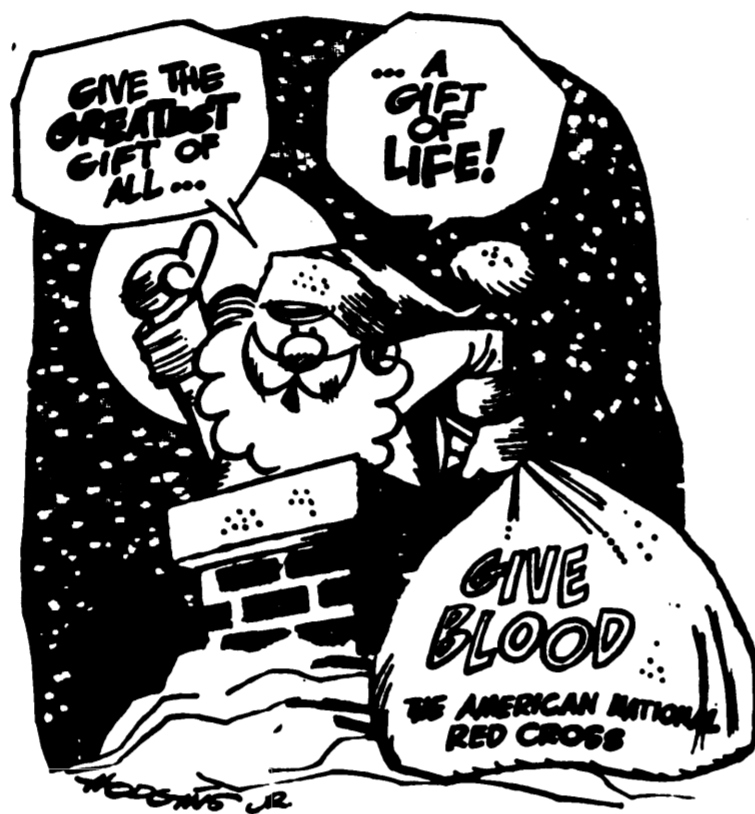

She was taken to Riverside Hospital in Trenton for treatment of eye burns.

The "pen" belonged to an uncle visiting from Chicago.

THE RED CROSS BLOODMOBILE will visit Delta County beginning Tuesday, Dec. 9. The hours are: Gladstone, Tuesday, James T. Jones School, 2 to 7 p. m.; Escanaba, Wednesday, Teamster building, 2:30 to 7:30 p. m.; Thursday, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Innocent Plea

ADRIAN (AP)—A 35-year-old Adrian man, Dan Lewis, entered a plea of innocent to an open charge of murder Friday at his arraignment in Lenawee County Circuit Court.

Lewis is charged in the shooting death of Grady Scott, 35, of Adrian Nov. 18. Lewis was remanded to custody without bail pending trial which is tentatively scheduled to begin Feb. 10. Scott was shot and killed while sitting in an Adrian tavern with his ex-wife.

Rock

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Beauchamp have returned home after attending funeral services for his uncle Henry Hart in Menasha, Wis., Tuesday, Dec. 2. The Beauchamps were accompanied by Mrs. Jule Demousse of Perkins and Philip Beauchamp of Escanaba. Henry Hart is a former Gladstone resident. He is survived by his wife, the former Marie Miljour of Perkins and two sons.

The whooping crane was given its name because its loud, deep call could be heard as far as a mile away.

President Hints He May Try For U.S. Senate Job

KAT CITY (AP)—Chief Justice Thomas Brennan of the Michigan Supreme Court says he is considering a bid for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination next year.

However, when asked if he thinks he will run, he replied, "I haven't made a decision."

Brennan was in Bay City to speak to the Bay County Bar Association. The Senate seat at stake in 1970 is held by Democrat Philip A. Hart.

All I did was ask for a tankful of Mobil Detergent Gasoline.

The next thing I knew, I had this beautiful Ironstone coffee mug in my hand.

My Mobil Dealer said I got one free with $5 worth of gas. (I could have bought one for 19c with a $3 purchase.)

At this rate, think how fast I can get the whole set of 8 (he said there were 8), and maybe even start on another set.

Not to mention how much cleaner my engine will be.

'Filly Billy' Newest Mugging Weapon

NEW YORK (AP) — In New York, where muggings can be a problem, women can now buy clubs in their favorite colors to carry around with them.

"They have a dual purpose—fashion and protection," says Martha Baker, the 29-year-old biographer who designed them.

Called "Filly Billys," the clubs cost $9 and are 2 feet long, 1 1/4 inches in diameter and weigh one pound each.

She says they are slimmer and "more feminine" than the regular policeman's nightstick.

The New York police have them only in shades of brown and black but the fashion-conscious lady can buy a Filly Billy in metallic gold, metallic silver, white, red, lilac or yellow.

The clubs come with a gold chain so they can dangle from the waist or the shoulder.

Miss Baker says she got the idea last September when she and her fiancé, Shelly Fireman, a New York restaurant owner, were scouting restaurants in upstate New York.

"I picked up a baseball bat in a store in a small town," she says, "and Shelly told me, 'Hey, that would be a good thing for girls to carry for protection!'"

Miss Baker carries a Filly Billy.

"I almost used it the other night when an overly friendly man approached me on an East Side street," she says. "He took one look at it, and said, 'I don't believe it. Are you for real?'"

War Protester To Get Lesson In U.S. History

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Vietnam war protester was sentenced to a lesson in American history Friday as an alternative to a term in jail for his part in disorders at an antiwar rally last year.

Judge Robert A. Latrone ordered the 19-year-old offender to visit a citizenship ceremony, the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Independence Hall and the Betsy Ross house. He also was told to attend three classes on constitutional law at Temple University and spend a day with the city archivist.

While Newsome, who was found guilty of assault and battery and resisting arrest, must present written proof within three months that he has completed the sentence or go to jail for 90 days.

Italians Plan Film Starring U.S. Hijacker

ROME (AP) — Raphael Minichello, the 29-year-old U.S. Marine held in Rome for the world's longest aerial hijacking, will be the subject of a film by Italian producer Carlo Ponti that may be released even before his case comes to trial.

Ponti said his treatment of Minichello will be "understanding. Some will say we defended him, others will say that we attacked him—but he won't be a hero."

Ponti, husband of actress Sophia Loren, said he had already secured "all the necessary authorizations" from Minichello's family.

Ponti said filming will start Dec. 22, with exteriors to be shot in Seattle, Minichello's U.S. home, Los Angeles, Denver, New York, and Bangor, Maine; Shannon, Ireland; and Rome.

He said he saw no legal problems in distributing the film in March 1970—possibly before Minichello comes to trial. "He is a public figure," Ponti said.

The title of the film will be "They Stole $200 From Me and I Took It Back," an allusion to Minichello's claim that the Marine Corps cheated him out of $200 in savings.

Minichello is awaiting completion of a formal investigation into charges that he hijacked a plane near Los Angeles and forced it to fly to Rome.

Train Robber's Wife Gets Tax Bill For Story

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The wife of great train robber Ronald Biggs said today the Australian government has sent her a $80,700 tax bill.

Mrs. Biggs received $75,000 from a television company for the exclusive rights to her story after her husband narrowly eluded police Oct. 17.

Mrs. Biggs said she did not expect to ever again see her husband or return to him. "If I go to Ronnie now, I face a prison sentence myself for harboring him," she said.

Ban Lifted

NEW DELHI (AP) — Censors cut kissing and nude love scenes from movies in India, but the ban has been lifted for the 4th international film festival which opened a two-week run Friday night. The city's 11 movie houses are jammed, lines are long outside and scalpers report good business.

The first prime crop in the United States was planted in New Hampshire in 1764.

Phil's Phun Phest, Planned For Tuesday

The Delta Supper Club, sparkling with yuletide decorations, will be the scene of one of the first social events of this festive holiday season, Tuesday evening, Dec. 9 with Congressman Philip Ruppe and his wife, Loret, as honored guests.

"We have planned an evening, the theme of which is fun, mirth and frivolity," explained Mrs. Robert Hansley, committee member, "in short it will be an event that will be long remembered."

"Phil's Phun Phest," will feature a buffet supper and lots of friendship, with no speeches," said Harold Vanulenberg, committee chairman. The gathering will be informal, in a Gay 90's atmosphere, featuring peanuts and beer on the tables.

Buffet serving will begin at 6 p.m. and will continue into the night so friends can come when they want, talk and socialize with Phil and Loret and other friendly people, dance if they like and leave when they care to.

Tickets are available at all county banks, Gust Asp's Buchman's Store in Rapid River or by contacting Harold Vanulenberg, Escanaba, or Arthur Pope, Gladstone.

Police Claim Cade Murder Case Suspects

JACKSON (AP) — The Jackson County Prosecutor says authorities have suspects now in the bludgeoned death of a Negro newspaper publisher, although no arrests had been made by early this morning.

Prosecutor Bruce A. Barton said Friday night "a quantity of marijuana" was found in the search of the home of publisher Charles Cade, 45, who he said was killed by a blow from a heavy object. Barton declined to speculate whether narcotics might have been involved in the killing.

Cade's body was discovered Thursday night in his bachelor apartment in a near downtown section of Jackson, a racially troubled city of 80,700 in which two persons have been slain and two wounded in a series of nighttime snipings over the last two and a half months.

Jackson police reported no further incidents Friday night. On the walls of Cade's apartment entrance were scrawled the words "Black Nigger," according to the editor of his weekly Jackson Elmer. Police refused to confirm the existence of the words on the wall.

James J. Murphy, Elmer editor, said the word appeared to have been scrawled in Cade's blood. He also confirmed misspelling of the second word.

Barton said a man known to have seen Cade near midnight Wednesday was located Friday but was "too upset to be questioned" by the news of Cade's death.

Barton estimated the amount of marijuana found in a search of Cade's apartment at about two grams.

Clear Lake Another Offered By Man

Several persons had been offered in the Clear Lake area are scheduled to be sold at the Michigan Forestry Commission during its monthly meeting in Lansing next Thursday and Friday.

The largest single transaction involves the exchange of 3,140 acres of U.S. Forest Service land in Chippewa County for 3,318 acres of state forest land in the same county.

All-Wood, Inc., of Baraga has applied to exchange 980 acres of timber land in northwestern Marquette County for 18.44 acres of state-owned Lake Superior bottomland in Baraga at the foot of State St. All-Wood now plans to fill the remainder of the parcel for shore straightening purposes and to afford greater utility of its existing sawmill operation.

Mead Corp. is offering to lease 2.3 acres and 600 feet of frontage on Clear Lake five miles north of Champion to the state for $1 per year. The DNR has recommended that the commission accept the gift of lease agreement for public water access.

Rudolph Vogel of downtown Detroitburg proposes an exchange which would provide public access to Porter Lake, Iron County.

Lions Hosted At Rock Food

About 70 Lions from Rock, Parkman, Tremont, Gladstone and Ovilla were hosted by a venison and beer feast recently at the Rock Lions Club Headquarters.

Harb Westlund, King Lion, was elected chairman and came through with the meat for the big feed. He began an eight-point book while hunting out of his Red Top Hunting Camp north of Rock, and shot a bear as it was taking his apple orchard earlier in the season.

Chief for the big supper was John Schaefer. Waitresses included Tina Manninen, Francine Trembley, and Diane, Susan and Jody Westlund.

Club Explosion Injured Two Men

DETROIT (AP)—An explosion at the Dethman Motorcade Club on Detroit's west side slightly injured two men early today.

Police said several sticks of dynamite were placed at the rear door of the club. The door and several windows were blown out and the interior of the building was damaged.

The injured, Charles Bully, 39, and Milton Blum, 37, both of Detroit, were spending the night at the club, according to police. They were treated at a hospital for superficial leg and face cuts.

Man NO Arrested For

Woman and Robert L. Reagin to host the event with him, said a decision would be made late next week after both sides file written arguments.

The contested school aid bill, meanwhile, was expected to be handled expeditiously in the House, where Speaker Ryan is acknowledged to be the leading advocate of probed.

It was in the House that pro-aid bill lost on a narrow, 58-57 vote last May 13, however, after Michigan gave only guarded, 100-hour support for the measure.

Ryan, who admits the issue has been first on his list of priorities in the meantime, predicts it will pass this time.

There is a bipartisan agreement, however, that the controversy surrounding the concept has not receded.

Major Tom Reagin "This thing is bigger than religion," Ryan said. "It's the superstitious North Island on top of South Haven."

The Michigan Education Association charged after Friday's action that the Senate had been "totally diverted" by "a group of religious state churchmen" promoting a bad public policy.

One running legislative leader said an education spokesman threatened to lobby against Reagin's entire religious package unless probed in a debate from it.

Additional GI Cutbacks Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Vietnam's improving ability to fight the war will permit continued withdrawal of U.S. troops despite a substantial stepup in enemy infiltration, Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard says.

The Pentagon's second highest official told newsmen Friday that U.S. commanders are concerned about possible North Vietnamese thrusts into the South but they "are prepared for it."

He declined to discuss numbers of timetables in connection with further U.S. withdrawals. President Nixon has pulled out 60,000 troops since last summer.

The United States should be able to cut its forces below 100,000 "in some reasonable time," he said. The present U.S. troop level in Vietnam is under 400,000.

Packard said enemy infiltration has increased "rather substantially," but added the actual figure is difficult to assess.

Some reports have had it that the level of enemy movements into the South had risen this fall to about 20,000 men a month compared with a summer low of about 2,000 a month.

Packard, who returned from a 10-day visit to Vietnam last month, said that "we've got to expect the enemy to keep up the pressure."

The increased infiltration "indicates that the enemy at the very least intends to continue some level of activity there—whether another Tet offensive or small unit guerrilla actions, we don't know," he said.

President Veto Could Derail Aged Pay Hike

The Mansfield-Byrd proposal would mean benefit payments of $2 billion a year more than the $4.2 billion for a straight 15 per cent increase.

Pair Reels Move Social Security Administration officials said $1 million of the present 25 million recipients now receive less than the minimum set in the amendment.

Byrd and Mansfield declared their proposal was the effective way to bring old persons out of poverty.

In 1973, the Social Security tax rate will have increased to 5.65 per cent each for employer and employee.

Thus each would pay $678 in that year on a $12,000 base, as compared with $448.70 of the $7,300 base stayed in effect.

The present tax is $744.40 with a 4.5 per cent rate.

The Senate voted 53-32 for another amendment which would cost $1.9 billion a year by allowing parents to take a tax credit of up to $225 for expenses of a college student starting in 1972.

Sponsors were Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., and Peter H. Dinklage, R-Colo.

Another Yank Copter Downed By Viet Cong

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops shot down a U.S. helicopter near Dak To in the central highlands today, killing 11 persons aboard.

Among the victims were a South Vietnamese full colonel—the commander of one of the special tactical zones in the central highlands—and his American adviser.

The other casualties included the four U.S. helicopter crewmen, an American sergeant, two Vietnamese majors and two Vietnamese noncommissioned officers.

Further details on the Americans were withheld until their relatives are notified.

The helicopter went down in rugged hills about 285 miles northeast of Saigon and was destroyed, a South Vietnamese spokesman said. The crash site was 15 miles northeast of Dak To, in the area where American paratroopers fought one of the bloodiest battles of the war in November 1967, finally capturing Hill 935 on Thanksgiving Day.

In ground fighting, troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division clashed three times with North Vietnamese soldiers along the Cambodian border, and South Vietnamese infantrymen fought a fourth battle just south of the demilitarized zone, military spokesman reported today.

Allied forces claimed they killed 184 North Vietnamese soldiers in the four battles. Two Americans were reported killed and five wounded. Four South Vietnamese civilian irregulars were killed and two wounded.

The first and second grade room mothers will be in charge of refreshments.

The Golden Age Club will meet at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Civic Center. There will be a social and potluck supper.

The Michigan State Police, Gladstone Post, reported today that the following persons received traffic citations Friday: Carl Engstrom, Gladstone, speeding; Alvin Kuntz, 1285 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, speeding; David Koback, Foster City, ran stop sign; and Jack LeClerc, Rte. 1, Cornish, defective brakes.

Lodge Returning From Paris Talks

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge left for home today after 10 months as head of the U.S. delegation at the deadlocked Vietnam peace talks.

Lodge and his wife took off for Boston half an hour behind schedule because of traffic congestion at Orly Airport.

Among those seeing him off were Philip Habib, his former deputy who now becomes acting head of the U.S. delegation, and Pham Dong Lam, head of the South Vietnamese delegation.

Lodge told newsmen that despite the lack of progress he still considered the talks crucial. "Those of us who want peace must not let ourselves get too easily discouraged," he said.

Lodge announced his resignation Nov. 20 and attended his last plenary session of the conference Thursday. President Nixon has not named a successor.

Patricia Jane Peck,
Paul A. Besson Wed

St. Patrick's Church in Escanaba was the setting Saturday, Nov. 29 for the wedding of Patricia Jane Peck and Paul Alan Besson, both of Escanaba.

Officiating at the double ring nuptials at 2 p. m. was the Rev. Raymond Hoetgen. Bouquets of red gladiolus and white pompons adorned the church altar for the service. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Charles M. Godin of Buffalo Grove, Ill. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peck, 1400 2nd Ave. S. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Besson, 608 S. 16th St.

Bridal Aides
Mary Louise Godin, twin sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Carol Crepus and JoAnn Hendrickson. Serving as best man was Jerry Hill and groomsmen were Bill Goulin and John Duncan, all of Escanaba. Seating the guests were Robert Lee and Harold Deroun Jr. of Escanaba.

Taffeta, Lace
The bride's full length gown of white taffeta with lace trim was styled with long sleeves, rounded neckline and sweeping train. Her short illusion veil was secured to a white taffeta bow and petal headpiece with pearl and rhinestone trim. She carried a garland of white and red gladiolus.

Red Organs
The bridesmaids were identically attired in full length dresses of red nylon organza over taffeta styled with a high ruffle trimmed neckline, long organza sleeves and straight skirt detailed in back by a full organza drape.

Their short veils were secured to fabric roses in matching red with rolled bows and organza petals and they carried bouquets of white carnations with green velvet ribbon trim. The reception was held from 4 to 8 p. m. at the Eagles Hall in Escanaba. The bride is a 1958 graduate of Holy Name High School and Mr. Besson is a 1956 graduate of Escanaba Area High School.

Coed Raises Pups To Pay College Tuition

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mary Leimer is working her way through college by growing pups. In a two-room apartment right now she has 12 Afghan hounds and an Irish Setter.

"Lots of students find classes and lectures a chore; I find them a welcome relief," says Mary, a slender blonde sophomore at the University of Pennsylvania.

She started breeding and selling Afghans in August 1958 and paid a semester's tuition with her first litter. The pups bring about $200 each.

"I didn't learn until mid-August that my tuition loan was phased out in the federal education cutback," Mary says, "and there weren't too many ways I could come up with $1,000 on short notice."

"They are work," she says. "Puppies need a lot of attention. My studies are suffering. So am I. It's costing about $50 a week to feed them."

The 10 pups are barricaded in the bathroom with a 3 1/2-foot-tall street sign nailed to the doorway. Mary and her sister use a wooden milk carton to boost themselves in and out.

Some problems Mary didn't count on: One night the pups got into fabric dye and all turned green. Another time they closed the bathtub drain and flooded the place. And then there was the hamper raid.

"Guess I'm lucky the bathroom is large," Mary says. "It's what separates me from insanity."

Sometimes, the pups are allowed the freedom of the living room.

"They get exercise and learn to play and defend themselves romping around with the bigger dogs," she says, following them around with wads of tissue to clean up.

"I'm two years from my degree and now I hope a federal loan comes through next year."

Atmosphere Of War Needed To Understand Alleged Massacre?

By JOHN T. WHEELER

Associated Press Writer
To try to understand the alleged massacre by American GIs of civilians at My Lai it is necessary also to understand the atmosphere of a war which has led many U.S. fighting men to feel they are as much at war against Vietnam as for it.

Enemies Feared
While the communists speak of battles involving companies and battalions—the clash of professional soldiers doing their jobs—each GI carries with him the certain knowledge that in any village there may be men, women, and even children who are also the enemy, waiting for the time and place to attack him.

Hostility, and indifference to human life, are commonplace in Vietnam. Even the disfigurement of dead GIs is common.

In Vietnam the killing of civilians was a practice established by the Viet Cong as a major part of the war long before the first U.S. ground troops were committed in March 1965.

Both KIM 3,000

By official count, more than 30,000 civilians had been murdered by that time in enemy enclosures aimed at so thoroughly terrorizing the countryside that none would resist. The total now is more than 40,000 including more than 3,000 killed by the enemy in Hue when they held part of that city for 2 1/2 weeks. At Hue, the victims were predominantly civilians of all ages. Many were killed simply by tying their hands behind their backs, shoving them into a trench and burying them alive.

It was into this conflict that the American troops were plunged. They had been told to kill the Viet Cong who were bad and was the peasant who only sided the enemy because he had no choice. Given a chance, the official line went, Vietnam wanted to be free and democratic just like America.

Divided Allegiance
But the GIs found a war of shattered families, and divided allegiances to any regime, either Viet Cong or Saigon.

There is no front in Vietnam, no yes, no safety. To the GI of a rifle company everyone outside the perimeter can be suspected of plotting to kill him.

In Vietnam the word "civilians" does not describe noncombatants. It describes those more certain than occupation.

Violence Everywhere

In Vietnam the GI has plenty of reason for his distrust and fear:

Item: U.S. Marines found begging children to whom they had been giving food were stealing grenades that were tossed back at the Leathernecks during the night.

Item: One Green Beret commander found his desk boot-trapped by one of the Vietnamese working for him. The Green Berets began using lie detectors because their mercenary forces in some camps were running as high as 30 per cent Viet Cong.

Item: A U.S. truck was blown up, killing all aboard, on highway 13, called "bloody Route 13" because of the frequency of bombings. GIs from another truck quickly traced out the electrical wires to the detonator

GM Trying To End Flint Rift

FLINT (AP)—General Motors has issued another proposal for a settlement of the more than two-month old strike at its Fisher Body plant number two in Flint.

The company sent out a letter urging striking United Auto Workers to return to their jobs at a rate of 40 and one-half bodies per hour on the assembly line.

Some 2,300 workers at the plant went on strike Sept. 24th when the production speed was increased to 55 bodies per hour. The plant ran at a speed of 40 and one-half bodies per hour during the 1968 model run.

The company's proposal also stipulated that all seniority employees working the day the strike began would be called back to work.

Union reaction to the offer was quick and negative. The shop committee chairman of striking local 508, Kenneth Mcardie, labeled the new offer "a backward step."

Mcardie noted the offer to return to work at a production speed of 40 and one-half bodies per hour was five per hour higher than a previous company offer.

He charged the company with trying to increase the production speed with a reduction in manpower.

Nearly 1,600 workers at a companion Chevrolet assembly plant have been laid off as a result of the walkout.

and found a young girl still holding the handle. They shot her.

The Pentagon says that today's soldiers are the most sophisticated in history. But more than being able to operate intricate electronic equipment and the like, the GIs in Vietnam also could see at first hand the corruption, the indifference of Vietnamese soldiers to winning the war, the contrast between the poverty in the countryside and the comparative wealth of the cities and the way Vietnamese merchants, bar girls and even children selling black market

American soft drinks gouged them. Added to this were the deaths and maimings of friends. Cynicism mixed with anger rapidly replaced the early idealism among combat troops. Vietnamese were called "gooks" and "slopes" in a way that sometimes translated as subhuman.

Reasons For Casualties
No spark sets off a fire unless it falls into combustible material. The sparks that ignite American GIs are snipers, mines and booby traps. The major cause of casualties in Vietnam are mines and booby traps. Snipers also are a major factor. The three are all the more hated because each is hidden and after the damage is done, there usually is no chance for the American infantrymen to even the score because no enemy can be found.

Often intelligence will pinpoint a village as the source of the mine and booby trap makers and snipers. Repeated sweeps through the hamlet turn up little or nothing except more casualties. And hatred builds up for the villagers who know the snipers and know where the hidden traps are but don't tell. Then one day something snaps in one or more men. The frustration and fear drives them across that line of civilized conduct that in combat zones is a hazy mark at best.

There are indications that these things might have been at work on the men who are accused of massacre in My Lai last year.

Shooting Rampage

They certainly were on a group of American Marines I accompanied into a village south of Da Nang in 1968. A half squad, out of a regimental air force, went on a brief rampage killing a group hiding in a civilian air raid shelter.

The battalion was due to rotate home in four weeks. In the previous month, 15 per cent of the battalion had been killed or wounded by snipers and booby-traps. None of the Marines had seen a Viet Cong soldier during the time.

The U.S. Command's position has been from the beginning that civilians are not to be harmed. But the case for the apathy of civilian life is weakened by the knowledge that there are South Vietnamese assassination teams—sometimes led by Americans—operating in the countryside killing enemy officials, as opposed to soldiers, often in their beds at home, Viet Cong style. And GIs who have searched out a village after American bombers have done their work cannot help but be a bit cynical about orders not to molest civilians.

Viet Cong Villages
A senior officer in the legal field was asked after a series of murder trials earlier this year what he thought had motivated the Americans involved, all found guilty.

He said nearly all the cases he had handled involved villagers in Viet Cong held areas. When the pressure of fear or hate or some combination of these factors hit the men hard enough, they broke down with a sort of combat fatigue that ended with slayings.

In some cases the same men who have had to stand trial for killing civilians have helped support Vietnamese orphanages or become involved in unofficial relief operations for families made refugees by the war.

"In war, everything is realer than real. The capacity for great violence rises to the surface, but so does a capacity for great compassion," an Army doctor said. "Remember, part of the brutalizing men undergo is necessary to their psychological survival. You can't look war in the face with the kind of emotional responses we use in the states. You would go mad."

'Bad News' Leaves Newspaper White

MUSKEGON (AP)—The Muskegon Chronicle had more white space than printed matter on its front page Friday.

Where so-called "bad news" might have been, the columns were blank.

Normal front page "bad news" appeared on page three, and there was a half-page editorial explaining the reason. "We took the step," the editorial said, "in hope that the 'shock' value of all that blank space would help us to illustrate a point we have tried with very limited success to make to the many readers who write us to complain of newspaper over-emphasis of crime, tragedy, violence, controversy, dissent—in short, 'bad news.'"

"An editor who decided to print only good news would not only be hard put to fill his paper, as we trust we've demonstrated today. He would also be deceiving his readers, asking them to look at the world through thick glasses that distort the view."

"A 'good news' edition modeled on today's front page might be a pleasant change, but it would be merely a stunt—a tunnel-vision view of sunshine and happiness, devoid of reality."

"We print the good news as it comes, along with the bad, for that is the way the world is—a mixture of good and bad. And we do our best to faithfully mirror it as it is."

In Page One columns where stories were skipped, there appeared a box reading: "This space is vacant because the news article which normally would have appeared here is of controversial or unpleasant nature."

Among things that would have appeared on the front page, but which were relegated to the inside were a five-column Vietnam war picture; a three-column story of a Negro editor's slaying in Jackson, Mich.

Dow Averages Hit 1969 Low

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market, as measured by the Dow Jones industrial average and the Associated Press 60-stock average, hit another 1969 low Friday.

The Dow industrials dropped 3.50 points to 793.06. The AP average fell 1.2 points to 272.6. Of 1,600 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 511 declined and 532 advanced. Volume contracted to 11.15 million shares from 13.24 million Thursday.

Violence Not Answer To Success: Keeler

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — Tu la weita nehi, 61, became chairman today of the National Association of Manufacturers, a voluntary organization of industrial and business firms with a popular reputation as a curator of conservative values.

Performance Helps
 Tu la weita nehi, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Indian Tribe, believes that minority groups must win their place in society by performance rather than by violence or charity. He feels, of course, that he is living proof of the wisdom of this viewpoint.

"Anthropologists look upon me as an Uncle Tom," the chief said, "but we old Indians believe violence is not the answer. Those who advocate we use violence, well I think that's just a lot of stuff."

When he "puts on my white man's hat," which he does most of the time, the chief is W. W. Keeler, conservatively dressed, soft-spoken but firm-minded chairman of Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Okla., a rancher, 3rd Degree Scottish Rite Mason, holder of honorary degrees.

Belongs To Masses
 Keeler, whose grandmothers were Indian but who says of his grandfather Keeler, "If anybody killed the Blarney Stone he did," discussed his interest in Indian and minority groups at the annual meeting of the 13,000-member group.

Regulations Eyed
 The NAM has a fulltime president, W. P. Gullander, who is the chief administrator. Keeler's job, therefore, may depend largely on his personal commitment. He must preside over four board meetings a year, but beyond that he can exert considerable influence through example, speeches, congressional testimony.

"I told them to get some Cherokee robes; I knew they needed and wanted work. They were given an intelligence test that we used then. I think they had to get 17 or so to pass."

"The personnel man called me up 'Bill,' he said, 'we're awfully embarrassed but these Cherokee boys just didn't pass.' Some of them got only 2 and 3. Well, I knew that despite the test they were intelligent and so we hired them."

"I tested two of these Cherokees later and both scored more than 20. Some of those we hired became chief operators in complex chemical operations, and the first one to retire did so just a while ago."

Accurate Measurement
 The test, Keeler feels, probably did accurately measure a white man's intelligence. But the Cherokees had grown up speaking their native tongue. They weren't used to tests, especially one worded in another language.

The more necessity to take tests apparently came as a shock to them. They were given physicals for the first time in their lives and they were shaken up. "If those boys had known what was ahead of them they never would have done it."

Breaking down such hiring barriers, Keeler feels, is only part of the battle. Peoples have different values and these values must be understood if minority workers are to be properly motivated, he maintains.

Quite naturally, Keeler hopes to influence businessmen by his views on minority employment. Some of the difficulty of minorities, he feels, might result from unintentionally unfair corporate regulations. He explained:

"During World War II, I was vice president in charge of manufacturing. I needed workers badly, and in order to get them we had to begin waiving the rules. First we did away with the rule that a worker must be a high school graduate."

Tests For Indians
 "Next we waived the rule that you couldn't have a record with the F.B.I. We broke that policy, and still we needed people but the personnel department said: 'Bill, we just can't find them.'"

Over 125,000 Sign Petition To Block Aid

LANSING (AP) — Citizens to Advance Public Education, the main group opposing state aid to nonpublic schools, has collected more than 125,000 signatures in a petition drive to date.

"We're using it for pressure purposes," said CAPE chairman Mrs. Harriett Phillips. "But obviously we're not doing much good," she added.

Mrs. Phillips was referring to the Senate's action Friday in sending the school aid bill, including $85 million in state aid for nonpublic schools, to the House. Opponents had hoped for a reconsideration of the measure, originally approved by the Senate three weeks ago.

Mrs. Phillips said there might be a lot more signatures than her estimate.

"We're going to keep the petitions circulating and have no cutoff date," she said.

This is not a legal petition seeking to put the parochial issue on the election ballot. The petition asks people opposed to the theory of state aid to nonpublic schools to urge lawmakers to put the issue on the November, 1970, election ballot so the people can vote on it.

"We are taking the names of the signers and dividing them into legislative districts," Mrs. Phillips explained. "Then we urge the people to write and contact their legislators on the issue."

"We will do everything in our power to support those who back us and everything we can to support the opposition candidates of those who oppose us," she added.

Mrs. Phillips, of Huntington Woods, is membership chairman of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers and a board member of the American Civil Liberties Union. The PTA and several education groups are the main circulators of the petitions.

She reported on another front that the parochial opponents plan to institute a court test some time next week.

The suit to be filed in Ingham County Circuit Court will charge that five school districts are illegally using state funds to support nonpublic schools.

Mrs. Phillips said she could not name the districts until the case is filed.

Couple Honored By Auto Company

DETROIT (AP) — For 25 years, Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn of Orchard Lake have traveled to and from work together at the Cadillac Motor Division.

The couple began working for Cadillac within two weeks of each other during 1944. Ever since, they have worked the same shift although Dunn works in the manufacturing department while his wife is employed in the financial section.

The Duns were honored Thursday at the company's 25th anniversary dinner.

No. 2 Man Wants State Bill OK'd

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. Thomas Schweigert says that if the Michigan House does not approve other aspects of Gov. William Milliken's educational reform package, he will suggest the governor not sign a $1 billion school aid bill.

The Petoskey resident made the suggestion Friday shortly after the Senate sent the appropriations bill to the House. Schweigert said he does not believe the measure would have cleared the Senate if senators had not been considering overall educational reform.

Fatal Crash

ROCKFORD (AP) — State Police from the Rockford post said two persons were killed and three injured in a two-car crash just north of Rockford on old US 131 shortly after midnight today. Names of the dead were not immediately released.

Calley Quizzed By Army Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — First Lt. William L. Calley Jr., who is maintaining a public silence on charges he killed 100 Vietnamese civilians, has been questioned 2½ hours by a special Army panel at the Pentagon.

Calley was tight-lipped and looked straight ahead Friday as he made his way quickly through a crowd of newsmen and photographers upon his arrival. He declined to answer questions.

He left the building by another route after appearing before a hearing which seeks to learn whether field officers tried to cover up any mass killings in their initial investigation after a U.S. military operation in March 1968 at My Lai.

Calley was the leader of a platoon which took part in the operation and is the only one charged with murder so far in the alleged massacre.

The probe is not connected with the court martial of Calley which is expected to start early next year at Ft. Benning.

On Thursday, the investigating panel heard from Capt. Ernest Medina, who was Calley's company commander. Medina later told newsmen he had neither ordered a massacre nor saw or heard of one, although he said he did shoot one wounded Viet Cong woman he thought was about to harm him.

Meanwhile, Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard and Army Chief of Staff Gen. William C. Westmoreland said the alleged My Lai massacre should not be considered an indictment of all U.S. soldiers.

"I can assure you the Army is not attempting to hide anything," Westmoreland said while visiting Ft. Campbell, Ky., Friday. "We will continue to pursue our investigation with diligent thoroughness and full respect for the due process of right of the accused."

He said that to picture the alleged massacre as typical of the Army is a "gross distortion of facts."

Packard made similar comments in a Pentagon news conference.

Most American troops, he said, "have made great personal contributions to the improvement of the life of the South Vietnamese people."

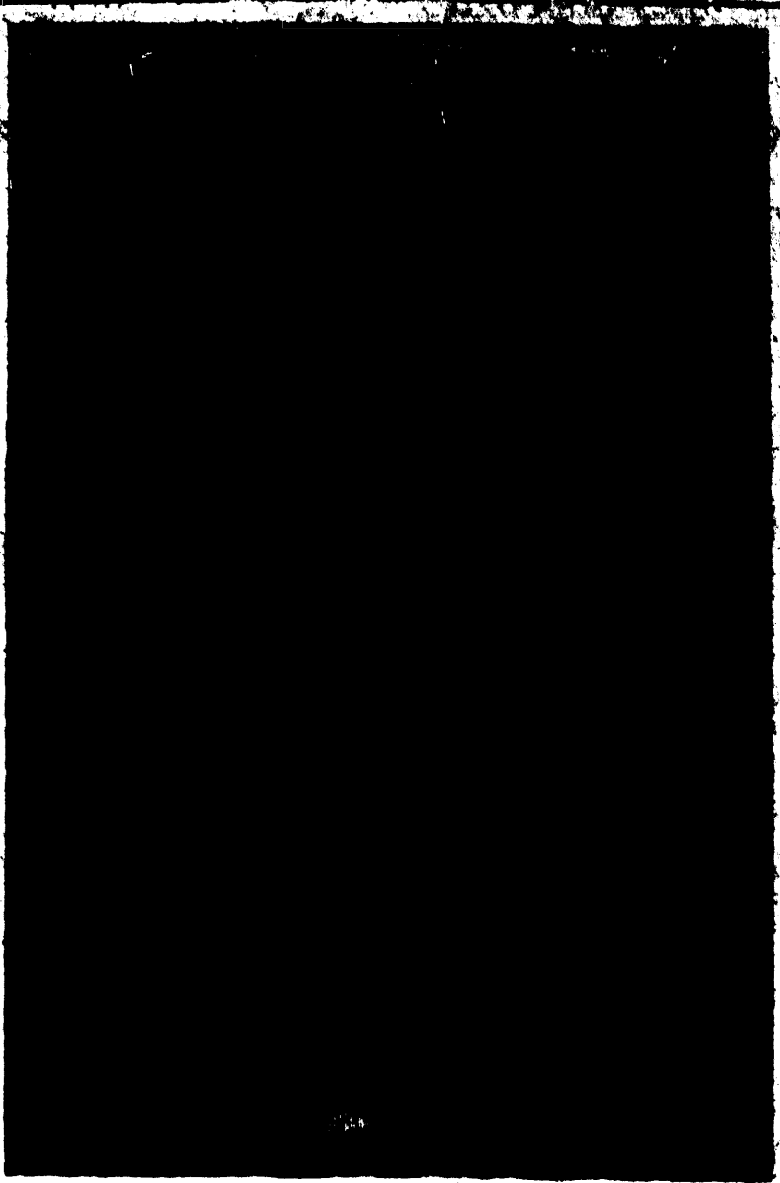

He said that the enemy, on the other hand, had a deliberate policy of terrorism and military attacks on civilians.

In another development, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said he will introduce a resolution urging U.S. financing for reconstruction of My Lai and payments to survivors of the attack.

The resolution says there can be no doubt "that the hamlet of My Lai suffered cruelly in the course of an American military action and that many scores of Vietnamese civilians, including women and children, were killed."

Deaf Mute Held In Store Robbery

WEST BRANCH (AP) — A 34-year-old deaf mute and ex-convict was held in the Ogemaw County Jail on $5,000 bond in connection with the armed robbery of a party store south of West Branch Tuesday evening.

Wayne Richardson of Whitmore Lake was arraigned on an armed-robbery charge and asked for a court appointed attorney before District Court Judge Edwin W. Bertlett.

A man walked into Leroy's Party Store on M30, pulled a .38-cal. snub-nosed revolver from his coat, walked over to the cash register and took the drawer containing $150, according to store owner Leroy Bennett.

Civil Service Pay Hike To Cost State $25,600,000

DETROIT (AP) — State's 1968 civil service pay raises were looking forward to pay raises next July 1 averaging 6.4 per cent. Gains were dressed of maybe, getting an average boost almost twice as big.

The increases range from a low of 4.7 to 16 per cent, but the extremes apply in only a few isolated instances, and all told the hikes will add $25.6 million a year to the state's $600 million payroll.

Fringe benefits will add another $2.9 million to costs and a 10 per cent increase in longevity pay another $255,000 a year.

A 6.4 per cent increase was approved by a 54 vote Friday.

Commissioner Richard L. Milliken said in voting against the average 6.4 per cent increase he thought it was too high. He said he'd have voted for a 5 per cent average.

And Chairman David Pollack said the study committee's 11.7 per cent recommendation was "not only obviously inflationary, but an open invitation to legislative veto."

Pollack also said it appeared some have reached "the envelope" by the Michigan Civil Service Commission, and that is a uniform voted by a two-thirds vote of both the House and Senate.

A study committee of departmental and union representatives which the commission set up had recommended increases one assumption that state pay rates have not kept pace with the cost of living, when in fact state wage rates have increased 47 per cent in 10 years while the cost of living has increased 38 per cent.

Pollack also commented that "rather than accelerating," the turnover in state employees "has decreased from a high of 18 per cent in 1958 to 16 per cent in 1968."

Gov. William Milliken has said the study committee's proposed average increase of 11.7 per cent or anything "anywhere near this would create a very serious problem." He said the commission's decision "seems reasonable."

Libel Suit Filed Against Hospital

PORTLAND (AP) — A $500,000 libel suit was filed Friday against the Portland General Hospital board of trustees by former hospital administrator, Harold B. Euler, who was fired last June.

Euler and his wife, Genevieve are seeking the damages in Oakland County Circuit Court on a claim that the 11 trustees wouldn't tell Euler specifically why he was fired.

The Eulers claim that the trustees' actions and statements after the firing were "false, libelous and defamatory," caused Euler "loss of financial gain as a businessman" and resulted in "great mental anguish, pain, suffering and humiliation."

Mrs. Euler claims she suffered a relapse of blackouts following the "shocking" dismissal of her husband June 19. Euler was unanimously fired by the board 11 months before he could have retired at age 65.

Mayor Gribbs Picks FBI Man

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor-elect Norman S. Gribbs announced his first executive appointment Friday, naming a former FBI agent and lawyer to co-ordinate staffing his administration.

The appointee is Philip G. Tannan, 34, who had been executive assistant to Wayne County Prosecutor William L. Cushman.

Gribbs says Tannan will "evaluate existing city personnel" and help "recruit the best possible applicants for future positions in our administration." Tannan will also supervise Gribbs' interim office pending inauguration of the new mayor Jan. 6.

Delayed Murder Trial Under Way

DETROIT (AP) — Nearly five years after the slaying of a 16-year-old girl in Clark Park on Detroit's west side, a man was brought to trial Friday on a first-degree murder charge.

Howard T. Manual, 35, was arrested Jan. 15, 1965—five days after the girl's death—but he was committed to Joliet State Hospital a month later after he was ruled incompetent to stand trial.

Last May, Manual was ordered to stand trial on the charge. Dr. A. A. Birnbaum, hospital superintendent, said nothing more could be done for Manual at the hospital and he is competent to stand trial.

The victim was Betty Jean Smith, a mentally retarded girl. Her body, with 39 stab wounds in it, was found on the Clark Park band pavilion. Manual had been in Detroit just a week before the girl's death, having moved here from Dayton, Ohio.

Eskymos Lose Game, Gauthier At Ishpeming

ESCAPING — The Escanaba Eskymos, who always have had trouble winning at Ishpeming, found more of the same waiting Friday night and dropped an 83-70 non-conference basketball game to the Hemetites.

There was no immediate word on how long Gauthier might be out of action.

"We'll know better today," Thibault said.

Munson Gets Starting Job

DETROIT (AP)—It's official, Bill Munson will start at quarterback for Detroit Sunday when the Lions meet the Colts in Baltimore.

Both teams are 7-4 for the season but the game should mean more to the Lions than to the Colts. Baltimore has already clinched second place in the Coastal Division of the National Football League ahead of Atlanta which is 3-5.

Detroit, on the other hand, is battling with Green Bay, 6-5, for second place in the Central Division behind Minnesota. The Vikings clinched the top spot with their 27-0 win over the Lions Thanksgiving Day. The Los Angeles Rams have clinched the Coastal title.

Lions' coach Joe Schmidt said Friday that Munson would start in place of the ailing Greg Landry. Landry sprained his right shoulder in the Vikings game and hasn't sufficiently recovered. However, a team spokesman said he would be dressed and could be ready by the next game.

Carney suffered injuries in a victory over Hermansville.

Until Gauthier left the game after only three minutes of the third quarter, the Eskymos had played head-to-head with the Hemetites, trailing by only a single point at halftime after falling behind by as much as 11 points in the early going of the first quarter.

Scored 16 Points
"If Bob had stayed in there we might have won it," Thibault said. "He gets real tough at times."

Gauthier, who played quarterback on Escanaba's football team, had pumped in 16 points before leaving the game.

Without him, Escanaba fell behind by seven points after three quarters and was unable to rally in the final stanza.

Gene Timmer paced the Eskymo attack with 19 points, while Tom Kangas added 17, including nine free throws. Jim Nelson topped a balanced Ishpeming offense with 18 points, followed by Mike Bertucci with 17, Bob Fortier with 16 and Tom Varda with 12.

The Hemetites connected on 50 percent of their field goal attempts, making 34 of 68, while Escanaba sank 29 of 61 attempts for 47 percent. Both teams made 66 percent of their free throws.

The loss was the second in two starts for Escanaba. The Eskymos return to action next Friday, opening Great Northern Conference play at home against Kingsford.

In junior varsity action Friday, Ishpeming posted a 48-47 victory over Escanaba.

Hairston Helps Beat Pistons

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Piston Happy Hairston helped out with 24 points Friday night as the Los Angeles Lakers downed the Detroit Pistons 120-109.

But at least he didn't lead the Lakers in their trouncing of his former teammates. Jerry West scored 25 points in the National Basketball Association game on the West Coast.

Eddie Miles, Jimmy Walker, Ernie Kinnear and Terry Dischinger each scored 22 points to pace Detroit.

Walker led a Piston charge early in the final quarter as they moved to within five points of the Lakers with 7:34 remaining.

In other NBA action Friday night, the New York Knicks put Baltimore down 118-107, Milwaukee chopped Seattle 131-104, Phoenix downed Chicago 114-113 and San Francisco topped San Diego 113-107.

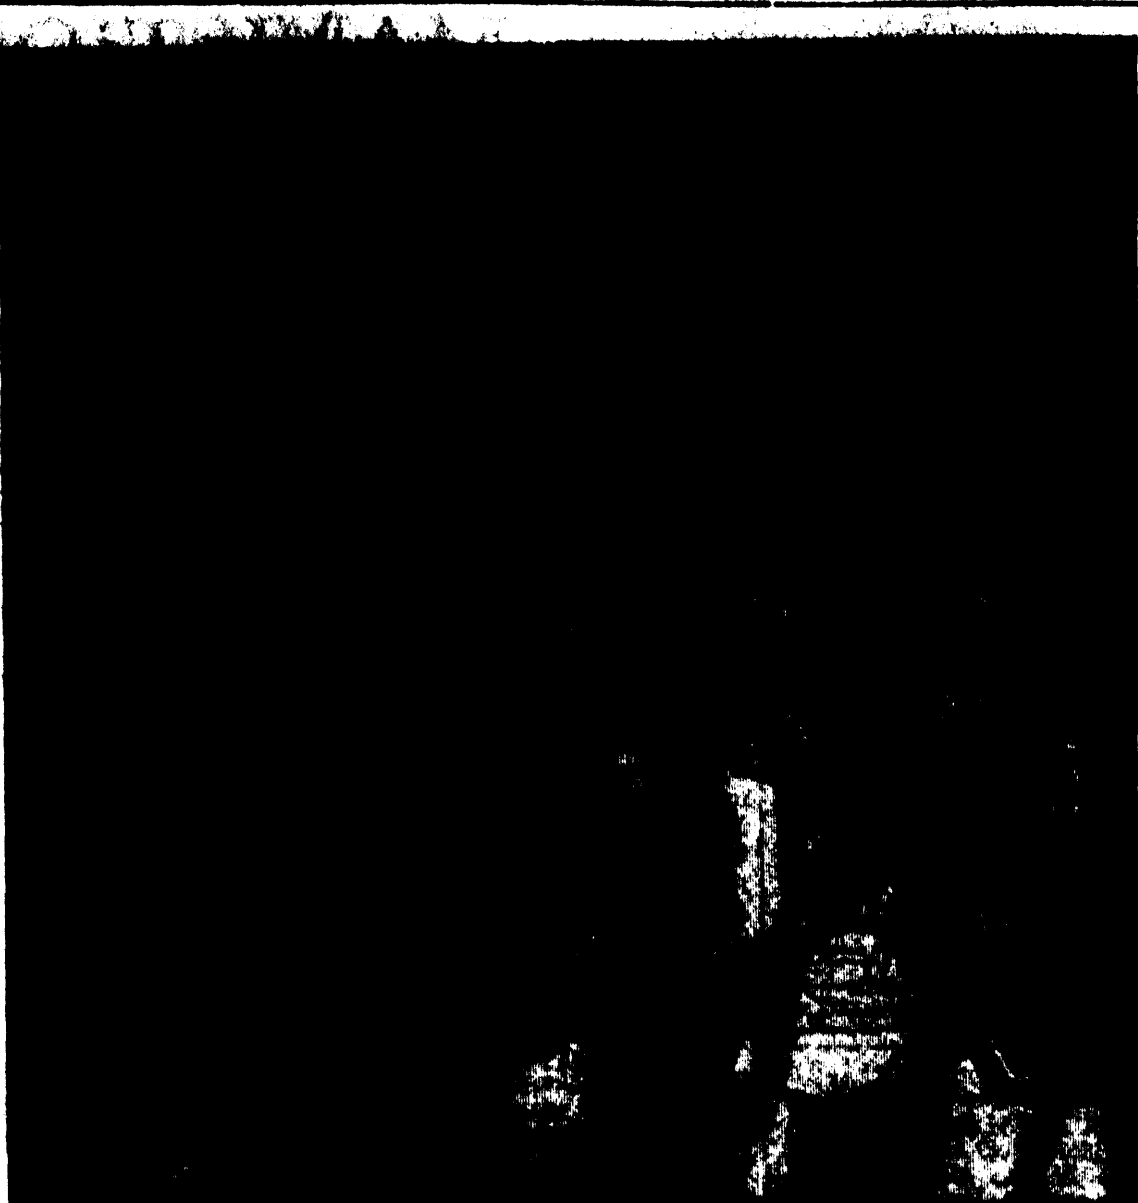

For the Lakers, Elgin Baylor and Mel Counts each scored 22 points against the Pistons. The score at the half was Lakers 64, Pistons 49.

And Los Angeles poured it on for a 19-point lead early in the third period behind the shooting of Harrison and Counts.

In the New York-Baltimore game, the Knicks turned off a late Bullet rally for their 118-107 win. It was the 39th victory in 37 games for the runaway leaders of the Eastern Division.

New York's fine season has put the second-place Bulls 7 1/2 games out of first place.

In the American Basketball Association, New Orleans topped the New York Nets 107-102 and Dallas stopped Carolina 108-97.

Crusaders, LeDuc Win Debut

By MIKE UTT

The 1968-70 basketball season opened on a successful note for the Holy Name Crusaders and their new coach, Gordon LeDuc, Friday night, as they upended a determined Manistique Emerald team by a 62-50 score in a non-conference contest.

Holy Name used a strong defense, good rebounding and the scoring of Dan Young, Bill Skradski and Joe Harvey to score the victory, the first at Holy Name for LeDuc, who guided Marquette Bishop Baraga to the State Class D championship last year.

Young led all scorers in the game with 23 points on ten field goals and three free throws, while Skradski, a sophomore who was the top scorer on the Holy Name junior varsity team last year, chipped in with 14 points and Harvey added 11.

The game was full of typical first game mistakes by the Crusaders and neither team could do much scoring in the first quarter. Holy Name made six of 20 field goal attempts and the Emeralds could only come up with two of 10, giving the Crusaders a 13-6 lead at the end of the quarter.

Lead By Ten

In the second quarter, Holy Name jumped out to a ten-point lead on two quick baskets by Skradski and extended their margin to 12 points on four more field goals, two each by Young and Steve Kleiman.

Trailing 26-16, the Emeralds then rallied and managed to outscore the Crusaders in the quarter, 24-21, and came within three points at halftime. Holy Name ended the quarter

Huskies Edge Denver Sextet

HOUGHTON (AP)—Carl Ahlsten led Michigan Tech to a 5-5 overtime victory Friday night over Denver in a Western Collegiate Hockey Association game.

The senior right winger slugged in the winning goal with 7:45 left in the first 10-minute overtime period. The score was tied 5-5 at the end of three periods, thanks to Terry McKnight who tied the score for Tech with just six seconds left in the contest. It was the first conference contest for each school. Tech is now 4-1 overall and Denver is 3-1.

At Rapid River, Coach Bob Debelak got balanced scoring by making nine of 16 field goal attempts and Manistique was 20 from the field.

The third quarter found the two teams matching the first quarter in scoring and showed the same early season mistakes by both teams.

Holy Name managed to forge ahead by as many as 15 points early in the fourth quarter and from then on it was clear sailing for the Crusaders.

The tie at the top of the standings won't last long, however, as Perkins and Bark River clash next Friday at Perkins.

Except for the first quarter Friday night when Rock stayed within four points, Bark River was in control. The Broncos stretched their advantage to 41-24 at halftime and built up a 21-point lead entering the final quarter.

Joe VanDamme Out
Rock played without Joe VanDamme, who injured his back during the week, and lost Tony VanDamme in the second quarter with a hip injury.

Loren Veezer paced the winners with 19 points, Gary Whitley added 14. Larry Karki tossed in 17 points for the Little Giants and Gary Brungbauer had 14.

At Rapid River, Coach Bob Debelak got balanced scoring attempts for 43 per cent, while the Emeralds were only successful on 18 of 61 shots from the field for 30 per cent. At the free throw line, Holy Name was six for 18 and Manistique was 14 of 23.

The big difference in the game came in the rebounding department, where the Crusaders used their height to pull down 51 rebounds to Manistique's 33. Leading the way here was Harvey, who had 15, and Young and Kleiman, who had nine each.

Rapid River grabbed a 22-11 lead after one quarter, watched Eben hustle back to within three points after three quarters, then regained control of the game in the fourth quarter. The Rockets made 20 of 65 field goal attempts.

Eben played without senior Alex Freberg, who was ill.

In junior varsity games, Rapid River nipped Eben 47-44 and Rock turned in a 52-34 triumph over Bark River.

Foul Shots Provide Victory For Braves

By BILL CADEAU

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Braves used free throws as a lever to upend a rough and tumble Munising basketball team Friday night in the Gladstone gymnasium, coming through with an initial win for new coach, Jack Ingalls, 81-82. The Braves converted 35 of 49 attempts from the charity stripe where the game was won.

The game was more like football as the two teams battled throughout, fighting for rebounds and baskets. In all, 55 fouls were called, 31 on the visiting Mustangs who saw their entire starting five leave via the personal foul route. Gladstone lost only Jerry Erickson through the same method.

Mustangs Lead Early
The Braves fell off the pace early in the game, trailing by 4-0, as Larry Dunkle hit three points and Nick Cromell one. Lynn Apelgren hit his first of 13 free throws for the night for the Braves' first counter, then 6-2 pivotman Don Harris connected on the three-point play to knot the score at 4-11.

Dave Wickstrom got his first basket to give the Mustangs another lead which they kept until Dan Young meshed a fielder to tie the score again at 15-15 near the end of the quarter. Munising got a pair of free throws from Cromell and another from Wickstrom to hold an 18-17 edge at the buzzer.

Apelgren's jumper seconds after the second stanza started put the Braves on the winning trail. Between Apelgren's 10 of 12 free throws during the second period and some good defensive work by 6-3 Bill Murphy and half-time bulge. Young found the range for four straight baskets to help along.

Harris, the Braves moved along to an impressive 48-36

The first half was rough but nothing compared to the last half when four Mustangs, Dan Niemi, Dennis VanLandeschoot, Wickstrom and Dunkle all fouled out within three minutes of each other.

Young engineered a strong third stanza for Gladstone with nine points while Harris managed timely baskets when it looked like the Mustangs would come back in the final quarter. Munising narrowed the gap to 76-70 midway through the period and threw a scare into the Gladstone fans.

Regulars Leave
The "shower parade" then started and before the dust settled, Munising's bench crew took over as the regulars left with five fouls.

Coach Ingalls said he expected this type of game as it was the Braves' season opener. He was pleased with the work of

In reality, there's nothing more than prestige, pride and a couple of lengthy winning streaks at stake since both teams already have wrapped up divisional titles, setting up a Dec. 27 showdown between the two for the National Football League's Western Conference title.

But, from the way both Viking Coach Bud Grant and Ram boss George Allen are talking, Sunday's meeting sounds like the REAL thing... not just a preview.

Play To Win
"We'll play to win and play tough," barked Allen, whose team hasn't been beaten in 11 games this season.

"You don't improve by sitting on the bench or taking things easy. We'll play this game like we've played each one the past four years... and I'm sure the Vikings will play the same way."

"We anticipate a rugged contest," said Grant. "The Rams have the best record in the league, they're undefeated in 11 games and they're certainly the best team we've played all year."

Los Angeles turned back stubborn Washington 24-13 to clinch the Coastal Division title last Sunday, continuing its hopes of becoming the league's first team to go unbeaten during a regular season since the Chicago Bears turned the trick in 1942, when the campaign was only 11 games long.

Minnesota was upset at New York 24-20 on opening day, but since then the Vikings have carved out 10 consecutive victories, including a 27-0 Thanksgiving Day blanking of Detroit that assured them the Central Division title.

Meanwhile, Dallas, only divisional leader that hasn't sewed up a championship, should claim the Capitol crown easily Sunday against Pittsburgh, which has lost 10 straight since an opening triumph.

Second-place Washington, which travels to Philadelphia, has an outside chance of overtaking the Cowboys—but one more Dallas victory, or a Redskins defeat, will send the Cowboys against Cleveland's Eastern Division champs for the Eastern Conference title Dec. 28.

In other games Sunday, Green Bay travels to Cleveland. Detroit goes to Baltimore. St. Louis is at New York and Atlanta plays host to New Orleans. San Francisco entertained the Chicago Bears this afternoon.

the team and saw something he liked in Murphy and Harris, two big defensive giants.

Young led the way in scoring with 24 points, followed by Harris' 23 and Apelgren's 21. Cromell's 37 led all scorers in the ragged game. Wickstrom managed 22 before fouling out with 3:14 to play.

The Gladstone JV squad made it a clean sweep as they trounced Munising's Junior Varsity, 80-74, in a high-scoring preliminary match. Jim Englund led Carl Beckstrom's unit with 23 points.

The Braves next outing will be at home Tuesday night when they host Escanaba Holy Name in a non-conference game.

5. Sportsmen

The nation's largest franchise organization has a limited number of new opportunities for the sportsman and woman to enter into the field that they enjoy the most.

We need an ambitious individual who would like to see the rewards of the ever-increasing recreation explosion - a person who is willing to earnings well over $1,000 per month.

This is one of the most amazing, but fun business you'll ever have an opportunity to look into.

You do need at least $1,500.00 to $2,500.00 cash to start.

Arab Dislikes U.S. Position On Middle East

DETROIT (AP)—Ambassador Rashed Mured, permanent observer of the League of Arab States to the United Nations, expressed disappointment Friday night that the Nixon administration had not come up with any changes in its Palestine position.

Mured was one of the key speakers at the opening of the three day, second annual conference of the Association of Arab American University Graduates, Inc. More than 200 delegates attended the initial session at Wayne State University.

Pro-Israeli pickets marched in front of the Arabs' meeting building carrying signs saying "Let's Have Peace in the Middle East" "Why Not Sit Down and Talk Now?"

There were a couple of scattered instances of a few words of heckling exchanged between the two sides but no incidents occurred as the convention opened with Arab speakers saying Palestinians are determined to go back to their own country.

Ambassador Mured said, "The problems of Palestine originated in our lands and it is going to be settled on our lands. Neither the United States nor the United Nations nor the Big Four powers are going to solve the problem for us. We have to solve it ourselves."

Mured said of the association's work, "The time has come in the United States for us to have a group of highly enthusiastic, Arab-American graduates dedicated to solution of the Palestine problem. The association comes at a time when it is badly needed, when the question of Palestine, which is the question of all Arab states, has reached a crucial stage."

"Arab territories are occupied. Israel continues to take measures to annex more lands and subject more Arab people. Israel is administering collective punishment on our people, on our territories."

Santa and the DUMBELL By Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: On their way to Santa Land Booby Bobby and the Ghost stop to see a puppet show. The Puppet Princess is in terrible danger. Booby Bobby wants to save her.

CHAPTER FIVE THE CHASE

STANLEY THE Ghost agreed that the Puppet Princess must be rescued from the wicked ogre who planned to wed her.

"Now is our chance," he whispered. "Before the curtain goes up for the last act."

They crept to the little stage and peered behind the curtain. The man who ran the show had gone off for a smoke. The audience, too, had turned away for the intermission. The Princess lay on the stage in a crumpled heap of strings and sticks. The ogre also lay in a heap and did not seem so dangerous anymore.

"Princess! Come with us," said Booby Bobby. "We will save you from the ogre."

The Princess opened sad dark eyes and gazed at Booby Bobby in wonder. He was the first person who had ever spoken to her as if she were real and not just a marionette on a string.

"I cannot move unless the puppeteer pulls my strings," she murmured unhappily.

"I will break the strings," said Booby Bobby. "Then you can move by yourself."

"Do you really think so? Oh, how lovely that would be!"

Booby Bobby snapped the strings tied to the puppet's feet and hands and head.

"How good it feels," breathed the Princess as Booby Bobby helped her from the stage. "I've never before moved of my own free will!"

"You must move very fast," said the Ghost. He rushed out of the square with Booby Bobby and the Princess at his heels.

The puppeteer came from around the corner where he had been having his smoke. He stared in puzzlement when he saw the Puppet Princess was missing. Then he saw the Ghost and Booby Bobby running away.

"Thief! Thief!" he shouted. "Stop them! They've stolen my puppet!" He began to give chase and all the men and women and children in the square gave chase behind him.

There was only a beat-up raft.

Panting and wheezing, the Ghost led the way out of the village, across the fields and through the forest.

"I-I can't run anymore," gasped the Princess at last. "It is harder than I thought."

Booby Bobby knelt down and ordered her to climb on his back. Then with the Princess riding piggyback, he staggered after Stanley.

They came to a wide river. Stanley said, "I've heard that there is a ferry boat here run by an elf who will take us straight to Santa Land." They looked everywhere but the only boat in sight was a beat-up raft tied to a tree. A sign on the raft said, "The ferryman has retired. This ferry doesn't run anymore."

The Ghost and Booby Bobby and the Princess looked at each other in dismay. They heard a hallooing and thrashing in the woods behind. The puppeteer came nearer and nearer screaming, "We have them cornered! They'll never get away!"

"Oh, dear," moaned the Princess. "All my life that man has made me do things I didn't want to do. Now he'll put me back on strings and I'll be just a marionette again."

"He hasn't caught us yet," said the Ghost.

He pushed Booby Bobby and the Princess on to the rickety raft, untied the rope and leaped aboard. The craft lurched away from the bank just as the puppeteer reached the shore screaming, "Here they are! We have them!"

But he was too late. The raft was spinning down the river and was already nearly out of sight.

Santa Arrested For Evading Draft

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—Santa Claus was arrested by the FBI in a downtown department store Friday.

The FBI said Santa was Ronald G. Frankfurter, 28, wanted for failure to report for his Armed Forces preinduction physical.

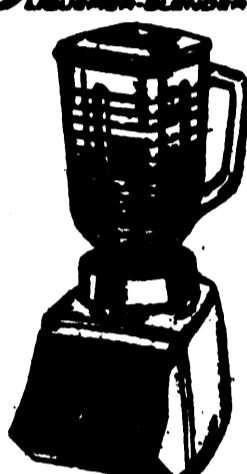

Frankfurter was arrested on a warrant issued in Indianapolis. He was held for an appearance before the U.S. commissioner here, the FBI said.

Give him a Hand-Pak. It's a tough, scratch-resistant vinyl carry-all that's just right for carrying on a plane or taking to the Country Club. In Oxford Gray or Deep Olive to match his Silhouette luggage.

Give her a Hand-Tote. It has the secret gingham girls like. Zippered inside pocket. Key lock on zipper. Made of leather-soft vinyl, in a lot of soft colors like Dover White and Blazing Blue.

Or give her a Petite-Tote. It's like a Hand-Tote, but just a little smaller.

... buy yourself something festive with the $5.00 you save.
